Dr. Frank Maguire Dies

By CURT PRINS
Daily Record Sports Editor

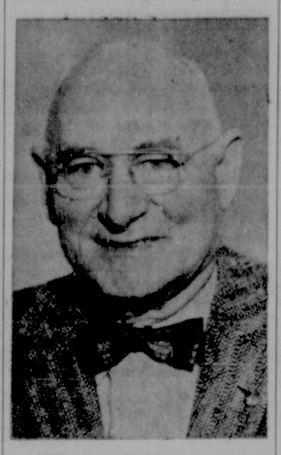

DR. FRANK P. Maguire, 71, a man who helped write the rules of basketball and football, died yesterday afternoon at Monroe County General Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Maguire, the only man in Monroe County's history to coach basketball at Stroud Union High School, East Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State College (then a normal school), was the commissioner-on-officials for the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. and district manager of the Bureau of Employment Security, Pennsylvania State Employment Service. He lived at 229 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg.

Dr. Maguire entered the hospital yesterday morning, with what he thought was a virus condition. He died at 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Maguire, who looked like a star of the silent movies, began his athletic career as a jockey and also boxed professionally. He lettered in baseball, basketball and football at Holy Cross College, where he earned his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He earned his Ph. D. from New York University in 1932.

He began officiating athletic events in 1923 and worked six PIAA Class A state championship basketball games. For the past nine years he was the official scorer at the game.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire

For 15 years, he was the referee at the Allentown High School-Bethlehem football game on Thanksgiving Day.

He was born in Plains, Luzerne County, a son of the late William and Ellen Mullaly Maguire. He came to the Stroudsburg area in 1941 when he was named dean of men and head of the mathematics department at East Stroudsburg Normal School (now East Stroudsburg State College). He also coached at the school. In 1936 he became state director of health and physical education in the Department of Public Instruction.

While in the department, Dr. Maguire wrote "Conduct of Elementary Education," "Orientation and Guidance in Physical Education for Secondary Schools" and "Education for Traffic Safety." These books are used as texts in many school systems today.

He coached basketball at both Stroud Union and East Stroudsburg High School.

"When Frank was at Stroudsburg," recalls a longtime friend, "that school always won, but when he went to East Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg had the best team."

In 1937 Dr. Maguire was named commissioner on officials for the PIAA and he established annual rules interpretation meetings on football and basketball throughout the state. The meets became so popular that for a month before each sport he held about three of the meetings a week.

Memberships

At the time of his death he was the honorary life president of the International Assn. of Approved Basketball Officials. He served as president of the Eastern Pennsylvania Football Officials Assn. for 24 years.

When he learned of Maguire's death Mark Funk, PIAA executive director, said Maguire "was recognized nationally as an expert on both basketball and football rules."

"I don't know anyone who contributed any more than Frank Maguire," said Funk. "He will be very much missed by me personally as well as the association."

Last year, Maguire was honored with citations from the National Football Rules Group and the National Alliance of Football for his service.

Dr. Maguire was instrumental in bringing about the rule which made face guards mandatory for high school players, a rule which helped cut down on severe injuries.

Known Nationally

In 1950, Dr. Maguire was awarded a citation by the Kentucky State High School Athletic Assn. for outstanding service as a member of the Basketball Rules Committee. In 1955 he was the recipient of an award from the National Federation of State High School Athletic Assns. for meritorious service.

He was a veteran of World War I and a charter member of George N. Kemp Post American Legion.

During World War II, as director of War Manpower Commission in the Allentown area, he was presented with a bronze medallion, the first ever made

Algiers Uprising Fails

Rebel Collapse Cheered By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington was obviously cheered Tuesday night by news from Paris and Algiers that the Algerian revolt had collapsed.

Authorities privately expressed hope that French President Charles de Gaulle would now be able to move forward again in his quest for a settlement of the Algerian crisis.

Neither the White House nor the State Department had any formal comment, although Secretary of State Dean Rusk said "it is always a great help to the free world to see France strong and unified."

Rusk spoke to newsmen before taking off for the April 27-29 Central Treaty Organization meeting at Ankara, Turkey. The organization is an alliance of Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan.

The attitude of the American government toward the French situation had already been made emphatically clear by President Kennedy who offered De Gaulle any assistance he might want in putting down the revolt.

To some authorities here it seemed certain De Gaulle's success in smashing the uprising would strengthen his position in seeking a negotiated settlement for the future of Algeria. American officials believe such a settlement would enable France to play a much more effective role in building up the defenses of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe. The bulk of French military power has been committed to the defense of French interests in Algeria for the last 6½ years.

In addition to offering aid to De Gaulle, the State Department had put the insurgent generals on notice not to move into Tunisia or Morocco to attack Algerian Moslem rebels based there.

Department press officer Lincoln White had said, before news came that the revolt had been crushed, that any such development would directly concern the United States.

White had expressed confidence in the steps De Gaulle had taken, saying the United States was "confident that the authority of France will soon be re-established in Algeria."

Surrender Of Insurgent Leaders Comes Suddenly

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The generals' revolt that pushed France to the brink of civil war collapsed Wednesday in the surrender of its leaders and the despair of diehard civilian settlers.

The end came with dramatic suddenness with the surrender of Gen. Maurice Challe while about 50,000 people milled on the giant Forum Square of Algiers, seething with rage and battling gendarmes.

Challe made a last despondent appearance on the balcony of the government building with Gen. Raoul Salan at his side. Then the two disappeared inside.

Challe, the brains of the insurrection, had already sent word to President Charles de Gaulle in Paris that he was at the disposition of the government.

The end of the revolt was hastened by President Charles de Gaulle's orders to wipe out the rebels with all means necessary—including warfare—to restore order.

Fate In Doubt

The fate of Challe's fellow rebels remained in doubt but those chiefly responsible may be executed as traitors.

The recaptured Algiers radio first had reported that Salan had committed suicide but the general then appeared with Challe.

The generals were deprived of even a farewell speech to the massed thousands on the square.

The microphones on the balcony were dead and their words were lost in the tumult, shooting and confusion of the midnight end to their desperate adventure.

In the final chaotic moments of the generals' revolt three gendarmes fell in the streets, wounded by fire from windows of surrounding apartments. The angry gendarmes returned the fire.

The paratroops who defiantly captured the government buildings Saturday were nowhere to be seen. They had pulled out of the center of Algiers earlier, leaving the way clear for gendarmes to move in.

The European population of Algiers—almost to a man behind the insurrection — was angry and stupified. Most of them had arms, and fights with the gendarmes were reported throughout the city.

The rebellion broke out without warning early last Saturday to enforce the European population's bitter determination to keep French rule firmly over Algeria in opposition to De Gaulle's course toward dealing with the Nationalists.

Legal Moves

De Gaulle already has opened the legal proceedings that could result in death sentences for all the insurgent leaders.

The French and Algiers radios, again linked for the first time since Saturday, carried a series of night-time announcements to spread the news.

In the announcement from De Gaull's Elysee Palace there was no mention of the other top generals involved—Andre Zeller and Edmond Jouhaud.

It was just after midnight in Paris when the collapse of the rebellion became apparent.

First Report

Radio Algiers first reported the suicide of Salan and the surrender of Challe.

The voice of the insurgents, radio Algiers, was recaptured Tuesday night by French marines and immediately rejoined the French national network.

It reported Gaullist forces were taking over the French North African capital, the last major holdout remaining in the hands of insurgents.

Oran and Constantine earlier had been reported back in Gaullist hands.

One salient fact stood out in a welter of confusion in Algiers: The insurrection that vowed to keep Algeria under French rule against De Gaulle's course for dealing with Natonalists was dying in high drama.

The generals' coup came without warning early last Saturday morning, and France had gone on the defense in anticipation of an airborne invasion of Paris from Algeria.

De Gaulle had taken the sternest measures with orders to wipe out the insurgents by war if necessary. The tide seemed to turn quickly after that.

Law and Order

Algiers radio claimed that "republican law and order" was being re-established in the capital of the North African territory.

The report followed a broadcast saying that street fighting had raged briefly in the streets of the capital Tuesday night.

The fighting was reported after De Gaulle, with wide support of his military arms, ordered French soldiers in Algeria to smash the Algiers generals' revolt with open warfare if necessary.

The street fighting apparently broke out about the time the insurgent leadership called for a mass rally.

Radio Algiers reported the fighting, in a brief broadcast, and then said the situation had returned to normal. The radio carried an appeal to the people of Algiers to remain calm and go home.

Kennedy Obtains Support On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the support of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former President Harry S. Truman in his effort to present a united front against Communist threats in Cuba and elsewhere.

Rockefeller, the Republican governor of New York, met with Kennedy for an hour at the White House Tuesday and said on emerging: "I think it is time for all Americans to stand united behind the President in support of whatever action becomes necessary to defend freedom."

Truman conferred with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Kansas City, Mo., Tuesday and pledged his support for "the course of courage," as Johnson phrased it.

This completed the roster of top leaders in both political parties who have been briefed by the Kennedy administration on the acute developments in Cuba, Laos and elsewhere.

Johnson, declaring that free men unite best when they know the facts, said in a statement:

"The administration is taking steps to be sure that leaders of both our political parties are completely aware of what is going on. There will be no evasions or avoidance of unpleasant facts. This is a partisan matter only in the sense that all of us, Republicans and Democrats alike, are partisans of freedom. So long as we can operate in mutual trust and understanding we need have no fears of the future. This country has a job to do and we and all our allies are going to do it."

Job of Recovering

Just how the job of recovering from last week's setback in Cuba is going to be done apparently was the subject of intense discussion on several levels of government. No decisions were announced.

There was talk of hitting Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba with a total trade embargo, the Navy began beefing up its Atlantic Coast fleet, and two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called for a Latin-American summit conference.

The senators, Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said Kennedy should seek a quick meeting of the heads of Latin-American countries to map concerted action in the Cuban crisis.

Hickenlooper, senior Republican on the Latin-American Affairs subcommittee, cited the delivery of Soviet supplies to Castro as evidence that a foreign power has "definitely invaded this area."

He said the Organization of American States could mount a "powerful and successful mobilization against the Communist regime in Cuba" that could resolve the situation rapidly.

Radar Bill Okayed; Goes To Lawrence

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate completed action on radar legislation and the House started work on the big general appropriations bill Tuesday.

The Senate voted 35-15 to approve House changes in the radar measure which now goes to Gov. Lawrence.

Under the legislation, state police could start using radar to detect highway speeders next Sept. 1. The bill passed without debate. All the negative votes were cast by Republicans.

The Senate had passed the measure and sent it to the House earlier. It had to be returned to the upper chamber to allow a vote on changes in the bill inserted at the insistence of Philadelphia Democrats in the House last week. The main one would permit a 5-mile-per-hour tolerance above the posted speed limit where radar is being used.

In the House the appropriations committee approved $899.1 million of the administration's spending requests.

Rep. J. Dean Polen, D-Washington, committee chairman, told newsmen the Democratic leadership had decided to hold the line on all spending and to avoid going beyond what Lawrence requested in his budget.

Polen predicted action could be completed next week, possibly Tuesday, on the measure.

Other legislative developments:

Education Committee—The Senate voted down a resolution proposing that a bipartisan committee of four Republicans and four Democrats be named to study the report of Lawrence's Committee on Education.

Executive Nominations — Lawrence nominated James J. Connor of Glenolden, Delaware County Democratic chairman, to a vacancy on the State Securities Commission and named John T. Welsh, of Doylestown, Bucks County, to an opening on the State Workmen's Compensation Board. The Senate confirmed Welsh's appointment but didn't take up the Connor nomination.

JFK Plans Strategy On Castroism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has assigned the top agencies of his administration the job of &guring out a new strategy for destroying Castroism in Cuba.

He has taken on himself the task of winning from Republican leaders a moratorium on domestic political argument which could wreck the new attempt before it was launched.

As of now, high officials privately concede that neither Kennedy nor anyone else in Washington knows what the next move against pro-Communist Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana will be.

Many plans are reported under consideration, ranging from direct U.S. military action—now highly unlikely—to imposition of inter-American political sanctions, which U.S. officials very much desire.

But basic to the future, in Kennedy's view, is the need to prevent a Republican-Democratic dog fight over the recent failure from wrecking future operations.

To that end Kennedy has conferred with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate; Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York; and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Two sets of studies now are under way. One is concerned with a resuring of U.S. - Cuban relations looking toward the destruction of Castro's rule. Informants said that the President clearly is committed to bring Castro down in some manner, considering him a threat to the stability of the Western Hemisphere, just as a Soviet base in Cuba would be to the security of the United States. The other study goes more directly into the operation of the Central Intelligence Agency, which reportedly helped train and equip the 1,200-man Cuban rebel assault force which launched the abortive landing operation against Castro eight days ago. That study is under the direction of retired Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

London Strike

LONDON (AP)—Thirty ships were idled in London docks Tuesday night as 2,900 longshoremen staged a wildcat strike to protest against the employment of part-time labor.

Good Morning!

It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy what we have that makes us happy.

Home Machine Saves Leather

House Judiciary Group

Okays Compact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to create a four-state compact for development of the water resources of the Delaware River Basin won approval of the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall earlier had indicated opposition to the measure because of a provision that would make the federal government a full partner to the compact.

The committee, in approving the bill, retained this provision. Udall passed the word at an April 16 meeting of basin representatives that the administration had doubts concerning the constitutionality of the government's participation in the compact as a partner.

A committee source indicated Tuesday, however, that the administration now may be relaxing its opposition.

The measure, embodying the recommendations of a host of researchers working for a period of years, now needs only clearance by the House Rules Committee to reach the floor for action.

The measure would create a four-state agency to administer Delaware Basin affairs—such as flood control, pollution and conservation. The government, as a full partner, would have only one vote on the commission, just as would Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

The Judiciary Committee, in approving the measure, said precedents already have been set for such a compact.

Meanwhile, Rep. Willard S. Curtin, R-Pa., announced his support for the compact. Curtin, whose district lies along the Delaware River, had said previously he was not consulted when the compact proposal was drawn up and introduced in Congress.

Curtin said opposition to the compact was an example of "heavy-handed bigness" in government with the numerous government agencies concerned with the Delaware River reluctant to give up any of their powers.

Only one member of the Judiciary Committee was reported to have voted against the bill—and that on the ground that the government should merely consent to the proposal.

Senate Unit Hears

Illegal Fixings Were Encouraged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee heard testimony Tuesday that top brass in the General Electric Co. directed and encouraged illegal meetings with competitors to fix prices.

Three witnesses, all since fired by General Electric after a federal judge sentenced them for price fixing, told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee that they had met with competitors on orders from superiors.

Their testimony identified Robert Paxton, a former GE president; Arthur F. Vinson, a vice president; and the late Henry Van Erben, a former executive vice president, as GE officials who ordered the meetings.

Much of the testimony, however, was based on indirect knowledge. In some cases, the witnesses testified they had been informed by others that these officials ordered the illegal meetings.

Direct Testimony

The most direct testimony came late in the day from George E. Burens, a former $127,000-a-year GE executive who was fined and sentenced to 30 days in jail after pleading guilty to government charges of price fixing.

Burens told the subcommittee that Van Erben gave the the instructions to meet with competitors. Burens, who was manager of GE's switchgear and control division, also testified that Van Erben had told him about a conversation he had had in 1952 with Ralph J. Cordiner, now board chairman of GE.

He quoted Van Erben as saying he told Cordiner that if the board chairman would not ask Van Erben to stop meeting with competitors, Cordiner would never hear about these meetings. Burens did not say what Cordiner's reply was.

GE representatives here issued a statement authorized by Cordiner. It said: "It is an outrage to suggest that I in any way knew of or condoned violation of anti-trust laws. Any charges to this effect are false. My turn to testify, I hope, will come in due course, and I will answer any allegations, no matter how remote or second-hand they may be."

U. S. Steel Earnings Hit $31,976,670

NEW YORK (AP) — United States Steel Corp. today reported earnings of $31,976,670, equal to 47 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1961. Directors declared the usual quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on common stock.

The dividend will be paid June 10 to stockholders of record May 5.

In the first quarter last year the nation's largest steel firm earned $112,578,752, equal to $1.97 a common share.

The company's net income in this year's first quarter represented a return of 4.5 per cent on sales of $708,712,707. A year ago the return was 9.5 per cent on record first quarter sales of $1,187,554,615.

Production in the three months just concluded was 5,165,767 net tons, far below the record for any quarter of 9,828,849 tons established in the January-March period of 1960.

Reverses Into Jail

MITO, Japan (AP)—Shin Shinohara, chafing over the suspension of his driver's license, decided it would be all right to drive his truck just into his yard.

He threw the gears into reverse. The truck's rear banged into a power pole. Several blocks were blacked out. A judge gave Shinohara two months in jail.

Bipartisan Education Plan Loses

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Democratic plan for appointing a special bipartisan legislative committee on education was defeated after an hour-long debate in the Senate Tuesday.

A resolution calling for appointment of an eight-member committee divided equally between Democrats and Republicans was beaten in a 22-24 vote that followed party lines.

Democrats and Republicans generally agreed that education should be something far removed from politics. Then they began accusing one another of dodging responsibility in tackling public education improvements.

Minority Leader James S. Berger, R-Potter, argued that the task of implementing recommendations of Gov. Lawrence's Education Committee could be handled by standing committees. He said it was unnecessary to appoint a special committee.

Sen. Harry E. Seyler, D-York, a member of the education committee which worked a year in studying school needs, cautioned his colleagues against treating the matter too lightly.

"There has been a great deal of interest in what this committee recommended for improving education in Pennsylvania.

Portray Eichmann As Terror Master

JERUSALEM (AP)—Witnesses who knew Adolf Eichmann stood before him Tuesday and described him as a master of Gestapo terror who heaped threats and scathing abuse upon them.

Eichmann's face at times reflected a twisted grin as he confronted two German Jews who once faced him across an interrogation table. Eichmann is on trial charged with directing the killing of millions of Jews in World War II.

Dr. Benno Cohn, former leader of the Jewish community in Berlin during the rise of the Nazis, was the first to tell the court how it felt to submit to an Eichmann summons. Cohn, now a Tel Aviv lawyer, said he was ordered to appear at Gestapo headquarters in Berlin in 1939. There, he was taken before Eichmann.

"He was terribly excited, very angry," Cohn recalled. "He said we had given information for an article published in a Paris emigre newspaper which called him 'Bloodhound Eichmann.'

Shouted At Us

"He shouted at us, he threatened us. He submerged us with accusations and wound up the meeting with the words: "You will go to konzertlager" German slang for concentration camp.

Cohn said he and other Jewish community leaders finally were ordered out by the enraged Eichmann. Cohn left Germany for Palestine shortly after the meeting.

The next witness was Aaron Walter Lindenstrauss, former head of the Emigration Department of the Jewish-run German Palestine office. He is now a banker in Haifa. Lindenstrauss was summoned by Eichmann early in 1939 to come from Berlin to Vienna, where the defendant then was head of the Nazi office for Jewish emigration in Austria.

Lindenstrauss said the Nazis adamantly insisted that Jews emigrate from Germany and from Austria in this period. The situation was desperate, he said. Visas and immigration certificates were almost impossible to obtain for the thousands of Jews ordered to leave.

When Lindenstrauss, accompanied by other Jewish leaders, reached Vienna he went direct to the Gestapo headquarters and was ushered to Eichmann's office.

"In very rude language, Eichmann said he was not satisfied with the Jewish emigration situation. He said things must be accelerated by all costs and by all means.

"He said: 'You must accelerate. I demand that I receive 1,000 Jewish passports every day. This must be a minimum quota.'"

Rep. Eshback Taken Ill In Capitol

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Pike County legislator collapsed in a Capitol elevator after attending a House session Tuesday night.

Rep. J. Russell Eshback, a Republican, was taken to Harrisburg Hospital.

Colleagues said Eshback had just left the House after a long session. He was in an elevator when he began feeling ill and collapsed, they said.

A Capitol nurse used a portable oxygen kit to revive Eshback until a physician arrived on the scene to administer emergency treatment.

Since the 1961 session began last January, there have been a number of instances of House members becoming ill during or immediately after sessions.

Physicians at the hospital said preliminary examinations indicated Eshback suffered internal bleeding from an ulcer. They said his condition was not considered critical.

Rich Canadian Weds Secretary

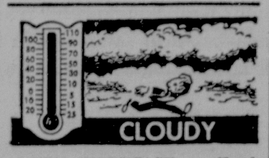

LONDON (AP) — One of Canada's richest men, Maj. Andrew Holt, 68, married his English private secretary, Hope Messer, 28, Tuesday.

Holt is the son of the Canadian Pacific Railway founder, Sir Herbert Holt. His first wife died three years ago.

Lawfords Expecting

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie actor Peter Lawford and his wife, Patricia, who is a sister of President Kennedy, disclosed Tuesday they are expecting their fourth child in June. The Lawfords, who now have two boys and a girl, celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary Monday.

Latest Rocket Failure Won't Affect Space Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Atlas rocketing an unmanned Mercury capsule toward orbit veered off course and was destroyed Tuesday. But U. S space agency officials said this would not delay the launching of America's first space man, expected next Tuesday.

Nor will the spectacular failure prevent the United States from placing a man in orbit before the end of the year, said Robert Gilruth, director of Project Mercury for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Next week's scheduled firing is to launch a space pilot on a suborbital flight which will take him 115 miles up and 300 miles down range in 16 minutes. A smaller Redstone rocket will be used for this mission.

The 3,000-pound Mercury capsule was blasted away from the Atlas booster seconds before the explosion and was recovered undamaged.

"We are confident a man in the capsule could have survived," Gilruth said. "This will in no way change our plan to stay with the Atlas as a booster for manned orbit launchings."

Showers Down

The explosion came 40 seconds after the Atlas was fired at 11:15 a.m. Chunks of blazing metal showered down on the launching area and one of them started a fire. The capsule parachuted into the Atlantic Ocean about 350 yards off shore.

Astronaut Donald Slayton, one of seven chosen for future rides in space, watched the explosion from a nearby control center.

Later he told a news conference: "It was disappointing, of course, but it was gratifying to see the way the capsule recovery system works. I have lost no confidence in the Atlas booster. I gained a great deal of confidence in the recovery system."

Gilruth's statement was an obvious attempt to scotch speculation the failure dealt the United States a severe setback in its race to catch up with the Soviet Union, which recovered a man from orbit less than two weeks ago.

There was no immediate word on what caused the Atlas malfunction. An official reported merely that the safety officer destroyed it because it was off course.

Gilruth said the capsule performed successfully both before and during its brief flight. A breathing, talking robot, installed where future astronauts will sit, continued operating during the seven minutes it took for the capsule to parachute into the ocean, where it was recovered by helicopter.

The explosion was witnessed by all three astronauts training for next week's suborbital space shot.

John Glenn was in the control center with Slayton. Alan Shepard was in a blockhouse and Virgil Griffin was in an F106 jet flying some three miles away.

Income In Pennsylvania Hit All-Time High In '60

THE flow of personal income in Pennsylvania last year was at the all time high of nearly $26 billion, 5 percent above 1959. In per capita terms, this amounted to about $2,300, also a record high and a little above the national average of $2,240.

Measured by personal income, the most comprehensive guage of consumer purchasing power available, Pennsylvania with $26 billion-income total constitutes the 4th largest market in the nation for consumer goods and services.

The $1,150-million expansion in consumer incomes from 1959 to 1960 stemmed from advances in nearly every major industry in the State. By far the largest gain occurred in the important manufacturing industry. Total earnings of factory workers in Pennsylvania rose from $7,756 million in 1959 to $8,130 million in 1960—an increase of nearly $400 million for the year.

Also contributing importantly to economic growth in Pennsylvania last year were the numerous trade and service industries with an increase of $275 million from 1959 to 1960. State and local government payrolls advanced by almost $100 million, and earnings of Federal employes located in the State were up more than $30 million.

An unfavorable aspect was the decline in coal mining, where payrolls fell $15 million. Although part of this reduction reflects national economic conditions, the more basic factor is the secular decline that has characterized the industry in Pennsylvania. Over the decade, payrolls in mining have been reduced nearly $300 million, or about one-half.

CD Program Tonight On Video

A DRAMATIZED civil defense program will be televised live during Operation Alert 1961 by the Armstrong Circle Theatre over the Columbia Broadcasting System today, at 10 p.m.

This will be the first dramatization of fallout shelter behavior ever presented to the public.

The program also will feature a message from newly-appointed Civil and Defense Mobilization Director Frank B. Ellis.

The one-hour program, "Briefing from Room 103," portrays the day-to-day experiences of a group of total strangers isolated within a fallout shelter for a period of two weeks following a nuclear attack on the United States. The group includes a crane operator and his wife and children; a manager of a bowling alley; a gambler; a nurse; housewives; and some teenagers.

You know you get a better buy when Henry's Hardware Store has a special on shovels. And you know how crowded the hosiery counter of your favorite department store will be when there's a bargain in stockings or socks. Do you know how you find out about these money-saving values? What brings a bargain to your attention? Well, you probably read about it in your newspaper or saw a sign in the window. This is advertising at work. At work for you, telling you about a special offer—at work for the store, helping to sell more merchandise. Advertising helps both you and the store obtain more for your money.

Whether it's for your local store or a national campaign...whether it's in a store window, newspaper, magazine, or on radio or television ...advertising brings dividends—to you, to the advertiser and to people who work for both the retailer and the advertiser.

Overflow Crowd Attends Dinner Opening 12th Annual Hotel Show

THE 12th annual Pocono Mountains Hotel and Restaurant Show opened with the customary fanfare last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

It was praised by both exhibitors and guests as one of the best—if not the best—ever held.

The show is co-sponsored by the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn. It continues today and tomorrow.

A cocktail party and dinner—both with overflowing crowds—preceded the opening. The cocktail party and reception was sponsored by the exhibitors.

William Altier, vacation bureau president, introduced guests at the dinner, as did Theodore Jenkins, hotel show chairman.

Among them were Clarence S. Rutt, sales representative for the bureau; Everett Allen, executive secretary, Pennsylvania Hotel Assn.; Gardner Moore, president, Pennsylvania Hotel Assn.; Richard Funk, president, Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn.; Frank O'Connell, president, Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn.; Frank Belletieri, vice president, Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn.; Harold Swenson, former executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and now director of tourism for the State Dept. of Commerce, and William Booher, chairman of the Pennsylvania Hotel Assn.'s resort committee.

The show itself had the usual country fair atmosphere with persons wandering leisurely through the aisles or stopping to chat with friends or business acquaintances.

And there was the usual variety of merchandise on display—from massage machinery to infra-red heaters, from food to insecticides, from building materials to vending materials to vending machines, from bedding to swimming pools.

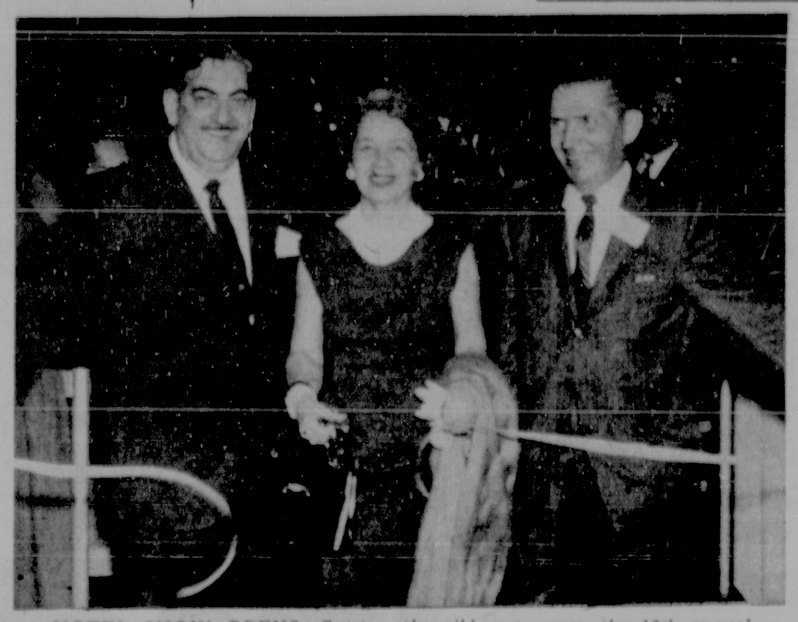

There were motion pictures and colored post cards; utensils small enough to fit into your pocket and machinery large enough that a crane would be needed to move it.

Today's program will feature live frying clinic demonstrations at 2:30, 5 and 8 p.m. and a talk by James Mantis of Reading, past president of the state restaurant association. A cocktail hour and dutch treat dinner will be held, starting at 6 p.m. Show hours for the day are 2 to 10 p.m.

Highlights of the Thursday program will be a luncheon and fashion show at noon. Show hours will be noon to 6 p.m.

Politicos See 'The Light,' Help Blind Canadensis Man

By PAT WILLIAMS

CANADENSIS—Seeing Ray Blitz mowing his lawn in the dark is a familiar sight to area residents. Day and night are all the same to Ray, blind since he was eight. Making change in his confectionery store is no problem either.

The problem arose when Sen. Hugh Scott announced that a new postoffice was to be built in Canadensis and that bids were to be accepted. The present postoffice occupies the other half of Ray's store and provides income for him and his wife, Julia. The postoffice has been in Ray's building for 20 years.

To have it moved would be a financial blow to the Blitzes. Renting it in the event of the move would be hard since a store next door, of nearly equal size, has been unused for several years.

The Lions Club hearing of the predicament began to fight "city hall." And, what's more, they won.

Committee of Two

Don Dougherty and Charles Siglin of the local Lions chapter met with the group and formed a committee of two to inform Sen. Hugh Scott, Congressman Francis E. Walter, and Sen. Joseph S. Clark and the postoffice department of the circumstances.

Answers were prompt and the giant machinery ground to a halt as an investigation was made into the case.

The results were confirmed by letters and a telegram: "Post Office Department has reversed decision and no change location Canadensis Post Office anticipated at this time."

Whit Price, Canadensis postmaster for 22 years, said the facilities are large enough at present although during the summer season, the volume of mail increases nearly five times.

58-Year-Old Woman Dies Unexpectedly

MRS. India K. Stright, 58, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, died unexpectedly at 5:30 a.m. yesterday at her home.

Mrs. Stright was born in Tobyhanna, a daughter of the late James and Maggie Cramer Strunk.

A resident of East Stroudsburg for the greater part of her lifetime, Mrs. Stright was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadows and of the Ladies Auxiliary of George N. Kemp Post, American Legion, East Stroudsburg.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, Ralph T. Stright, at home, are one daughter, Mrs. Daisy M. Ehing, of Stroudsburg; two grandchildren and eight sisters and three brothers.

The sisters are Mrs. Lawrence Smith, of Gouldsboro; Mrs. Alfred Woehrle, of Tobyhanna; Mrs. Herbert Yutz, of East Stroudsburg; Mrs. John Pope, of Tobyhanna; Mrs. Raymond Pope, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Benjamin Gleoggler, of Tobyhanna; Mrs. Margaret Fields, of Stroudsburg and Mrs. Joseph Ehing, of Stroudsburg.

The brothers are Howard and Lewis Strunk, of Stroudsburg and James, of East Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Lanterman Funeral Home. Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate. Interment will be in Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends and relatives may pay their respects from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

Two Jailed On Charges Of Burglary

TWO AREA men have been arrested by State Police and committed to the Monroe County Jail for hearings on burglary and larceny charges.

Held are James Nelson Norris, 22, of Franklin Hill, East Stroudsburg and Ronald Strunk, 20, of Analomink.

Both are scheduled to receive hearings before Justice of the Peace Ruth E. Miller today.

Norris is charged with the burglary of the summer residence of Harry Rhodes, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. The summer home is located on the Old Hollow Road near Marshalls Creek.

He is also charged with larceny of gasoline from the property of Clarence Walker, East Stroudsburg RD 2.

Both Norris and Strunk are charged with the burglary of the Pocono Manor Service Station.

Norris was arrested Saturday and Strunk on Monday by the State Police.

South Wayne Senior Girl Ties For 1st In Oration

NEWFOUNDLAND — Competing against representatives of 12 Philadelphia and suburban high schools in the regional forensics at Norristown High School, Jean Mary Burdick, a senior at Southern Wayne Joint School, tied for first place in the original oration classification on Monday.

Miss Burdick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Burdick, presented "Preserving the American Heritage." She repeated her performance of 1960 when she also won the regional title.

Placing in regional competition gives the local student a chance for the State title at Pennsylvania State University on May 12-13.

Gains Second

Donna Bartleson, a sophomore at SWJS, received second place in Prose Reading, giving Edgar Allen Poe's "Tell-Tale Heart."

Judith Cramer, Betty Lee and Richard Crooks, also representing SWJS in the meet, did not place.

"Competing this year was really tough," said Coach Adolph Caprioli, noting that this is only the second year SWJS has entered forensic activities.

Schools participating in the event included Maryknoll Junior Seminary, Boyertown Area, Cedar Cliff, Eisenhower Senior High, Haverford High, School of the Holy Child, West Shore Joint, West York Area, Woodrow Wilson High, William Penn Senior High, Norristown Senior High, and Southern Wayne.

H. B. Cramer Found Dead In Auto

HAROLD B. Cramer, 39, of Drake Lane, Stroudsburg, died at 2:30 p.m. yesterday at his home.

Death was attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning, according to Daniel G. Warner, Monroe County coroner.

Mr. Cramer was born in Monroe County, the son of the late William and Pearl Strunk Cramer. He had been in failing health for the past 16 months.

A graduate of Stroudsburg High School, he served with the U.S. Army Engineer Corps during World War II. He was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg.

Cramer was an employe of Line Material Co., East Stroudsburg for some ten years and recently was with Ceramic Studio, Chipperfield Drive, Stroudsburg.

Surviving are his wife, Catherine McGowan Cramer, at home and one stepsister, Mrs. Frank Haney of Hamilton Square.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Lanterman Funeral Home.

Cramer was last seen at around noon-time by his wife. About two hours later, he was discovered in the back seat of his car inside his garage. A cousin found the body and notified Justice of the Peace Ruth Miller who lives nearby. Mrs. Miller notified the State Police in Stroudsburg and General Hospital, which sent an ambulance and a doctor.

Investigating Trooper Alex Kearn called Coroner Warner to the scene after resuscitation efforts failed. It was reported that a rubber hose had been attached to the car's exhaust pipe and placed in the interior of the vehicle through the floor frame.

Sen. Dumont Probes Udall On Compact

TRENTON, N. J. — State Sen. Wayne Dumont of Phillipsburg, conferred over the weekend with Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to get information on why Udall oppose the Delaware River Basin Compact.

Dumont said Udall plans to recommend a presidential veto of present compact legislation if it passes Congress. He quoted Udall as saying he is willing to have a federal task force work with representatives of the four states involved to try to come up with a compact the President could approve.

The compact is a proposal that a commision be established to govern future use of Delaware River waters. Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Delaware and the federal government would be represented on the commission.

Dumont said Udall favors an agreement among the states to develop the basin without federal participation. Udall feels, he said, the federal government should be an urbitor or umpire" if a dispute should arise among the states.

CIA Reports Were Accurate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top U. S. official said Tuesday the Central Intelligence Agency correctly reported the Castro regime's military power and the temper of the Cuban people before President Kennedy okayed the anti-Castro invasion.

This statement clashed with views previously expressed by a number of administration authorities that intelligence errors contributed heavily to the failure of last week's landing attempt.

The contention of those critical of the CIA was that it considerably underestimated the strength of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's military forces.

Benefit Show To Be Given Last Time

TONIGHT will be the last showing of the film, "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness" at the Sherman Theatre with all proceeds going to the Monroe County Cancer Crusade.

Richard Walters, Cancer Crusade chairman, is high in his praise of the picture itself and of the owners of the theater for their cooperation in donating the proceeds to the cancer society.

The show runs from 7:45 to about 10:30.

At the opening on Monday, Dr. James Fahl spoke briefly outlining the need for funds for further research on the cure of cancer. Dr. M. J. Leitner was the speaker last night, and tonight Dr. Morton Spinner will speak briefly before the film begins.

Barrett Pupils To Give Program

BARRETT—Members of the Barrett Township Elementary School have offered as invitation to area residents to join them in the "dance around the world" tonight.

Under the direction of Allen Shollenberger, the pupils in the first through sixth grades will present their annual gym exhibition beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Proceeds of the program will benefit future gym exhibitions.

Yetter Asks Sale Of Land

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Van D. Yetter Jr., D-Monroe, proposed Tuesday that the state sell a plot of land it owns in East Stroudsburg to the borough.

Yetter proposed a price of $365 for the plot, about three-fourths of an acre. Two buildings erected by the Highways Department would be exempt from the sale. Yetter's bill was sent to committee for further study.

Minor Accident At Intersection

NO ONE was injured in a two-car accident at Ninth and Main Sts., Stroudsburg, at 9 p.m. yesterday.

Police said a car driven by William E. Warner, 68, of 538 Lenox St., Stroudsburg, struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Edward A. Salzer, 21, Henryville RD 1, which had stopped for the traffic signal at the corner. Total damage was estimated at $350.

"Something New Every Day"

Tax Revisions

President Kennedy has proposed a number of tax law changes, some of which are not likely to make him popular with those who derive special benefits from its loopholes.

The program which Mr. Kennedy sent to Congress is designed, among other things, to (1) stimulate the economy; (2) create a half million new jobs in industry; (3) reduce the balance of payments deficit, and (4) eliminate tax "havens."

In addition, Mr. Kennedy asked curbs to discourage luxurious expense account living. The millions who have to subsist on what's left after taxes doubtless will agree with the President's view that "It's Deductible" is a slogan that should pass.

Eliminating the abuse would not only strengthen our tax structure (to the tune of about $250 million annually) but add a little "moral fiber."

The kernel of Mr. Kennedy's program is a special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand plant and equipment.

This would be in the form of a tax credit to which businessmen generally have indicated opposition. They prefer to make their capital investments out of increased depreciation allowances.

There are at least two other controversial items in the program. One is to repeal the present meager tax concession on dividend income. The other is to withhold taxes on interest and dividends at the source.

Corporations paying dividends have about 15,000,000 stockholders. Other millions own savings deposits earning interest.

It is understandable, therefore, why Congress has considered tinkering with these items too touchy politically.

Otherwise, there's nothing new for the majority of taxpayers. The possibility of a basic tax cut was mentioned for 1962, but don't count on it.

Wages And Trade

In the process of adopting the Kennedy minimum wage bill the Senate got very much involved in questions of commerce. For one thing it turned down the Monroney amendment restricting minimum wage coverage of retail workers to businesses having outlets in more than one state.

This was put forward by the Oklahoma senator as maintaining the traditional interpretation of the interstate commerce clause in the Constitution.

Historically this provision permitted Congress to regulate business only when it crossed state borders. The House of Representatives exempted firms doing business wholly in one state.

A conference committee will now settle which house is to prevail in a final version of the bill. Should the Senate view of interstate commerce be accepted the courts will probably be asked whether this congressional reinterpretation of the Constitution is justified by the growing complexity of commerce. We doubt it.

The Senate also rejected an amendment by Senator Goldwater which would have authorized the President to impose a quota on imports from countries having low wages. But the evidence of favor for this plan forecasts a very real struggle over similar proposals when the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act comes up for renewal next year.

Senator Goldwater's amendment appeared designed to give employers who are required to raise wages potential tariff protection for price increases. Higher prices in turn tend to cut the real value of all wages.

And trade barriers—something the Constitution wisely forbade between the American states—tend to evoke retaliatory barriers. The wage bill link with trade once more illustrates how one intervention by government in business leads to another and produces harmful counteraction.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

The Income Tax

Now it is the National Committee for Economic Freedom that comes along with a proposal to abolish the Income Tax. This has to do with the proposed 23rd Amendment which has passed the Legislatures of Wyoming, Texas, Nevada and Louisiana. This proposed Amendment reads:

"Section 1. The Government of the United States shall not be gage in any business, professional, commercial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.

"Section 2. The constitution or laws of any state, or the laws of the United States whall not be subject to the terms of any foreign or domestic agreement which would abrogate this amendment.

"Section 3. The activities of the United States Government which violate the intent and purposes of this amendment shall, within a period of three years from the date of the ratification of this amendment, be liquidated and the properties and facilities affected shall be sold.

"Section 4. Three years after the ratification of this amendment the sixteenth article of amendments to the Constitution of the United States shall stand repealed and thereafter Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and/or gifts."

Unfortunately Section 1 is utterly impossible if we are ever to defend this country. The manufacture of the atom and hydrogen bombs or the atomic submarine involves our government in considerable business enterprise. If we are forced to go into Cuba alone these costs will be greater.

Those who favor this amendment say:

"The 'Proposed 23rd Amendment', would force the sale of the land and facilities of federal corporate activities back to the American people from whom they were taken, and thus cut the national debt more than $65,000,000,000 . . ."

This program ignores the fact that we are engaged in war with Soviet Russia and that it is necessary to have allies, to have bases abroad, to purchase land in this country. It is difficult to understand the mathematics of their proposal in view of President Kennedy's statement that the United States will not abandon Cuba to Communism.

That statement involves the United States in costly expenditures and in continued military preparations.

The Income Tax is not a wise tax in a capitalist country and it is collected with brutality in this country. Also, there is obvious waste in the cost of Government.

Let us say, without figuring too closely, that the waste is as high as $10,000,000,000, which is twice the amount estimated by the Hoover Commission. We still have to find about $80,000,000,000, to meet essential expenditures, about $40,000,000,000 of which goes to war and defense.

Surely those who favor abolishing the Income Tax do not propose to make us defenseless and to turn us over to the kindly ministrations of Khrushchev or Castro. True, the Income Tax takes a great deal of our income, but these devils will take all of our capital.

That being so, their problem obviously is not so much to abolish the Income Tax as to propose another form of taxation that might be more equable and just. Certainly, one thing that can be done is to make it a felony to move funds abroad with the object of avoiding or evading, choose your own term, taxes.

It should also be law that funds deposited abroad to evade or avoid taxes are not inheritable by Americans and may be totally confiscated if brought back in any form. This might help a bit and put some crooks where they belong.

But that still would not solve the problem. There would nevertheless have to be taxes for the manufacture of rockets and missles and submarines, to say nothing of other purposes. If we are not to have the Income Tax, we might use a Transactions Tax, but the amount needed would be about the same.

As our economy stands today "duties and excises" will not bring in enough to take care of an $80,000,000,000 budget or even a $70,000,000,000 dollar budget. One of the arguments used by the anti-Income Tax advocates is that Section 8 of Article 1 of the Constitution is sufficient and all else should be repealed.

But that article calls for the provision for "common defense and general welfare of the United States." The common defense is a very costly business and although I hate the Income Tax, I do not see how we can get the money we need except by this tax or a Transactions Tax.

The Pennsylvania Story

Pro-Labor Bills

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — It is significant perhaps that the so-called "pro-labor" legislation somewhat belatedly has started moving through legislative channels.

(Actually — it may not be moving "through" legislative channels as much as it is "into" these channels.)

There is for example the pro-labor legislation that would establish a $1 hourly minimum wage in Pennsylvania (originally set up as $1.25 an hour but trimmed back when Congress trimmed the sails on similar legislation in Washington).

This has been reported out by House committee for possible floor action this week, along with a bill that would sharply curtail court powers in issuance of anti-strike injunctions; another that would outlaw employment of professional strike - breakers; and another that would require payment by the state of the local prevailing wage rate on state contracts.

Also on the pro-labor agenda is legislation that would require railroads to carry a five - man crew on all freight trains or switch engines — classified by the Pennsylvania Railroad as "pure feather-beding" — and which went down to defeat only last week in the House.

But the lower chamber did approve a bill that would require a flagman on all common carrier roads. What may happen to these bills in the Senate is quite another story.

Mention is made of these bills because they are the ones backed by organized labor in Pennsylvania — these are some of the "pro-labor" bits of legislation labor wanted sprung from committee much, much earlier in the current session.

Back in mid-March it was this column that brought out the fact, as we said at that time:

"Indications are growing on Capitol Hill that organized labor in the Keystone State is becoming nettled and irked by what some labor leaders term 'a growing aloofness' on the part of the Democratic Lawrence Administration."

Two weeks later Pennsylvania's labor leaders and Governor Lawrence sat down in what since has become known as "labor's summit peace powwow." It wasn't until after that meeting that labor legislation began to move — last week.

Organized labor over the years always has been closely allied with the Democratic Party — whether in Pennsylvania or on the national scene.

In the somewhat "painful minority years" for Keystone State Democrats when they couldn't even muster enough candidates to run for office, let alone win an office, it was their pleas and pledges to labor that drew this support — the promise of almost anything.

Today there is a somewhat different hue to the picture. Democrats no longer are the "cast-offs" — the minority, the also-rans. Today they occupy the gubernatorial suite, control the House of Representatives, the Senate and the two elective state fiscal offices of Auditor General and State Treasurer.

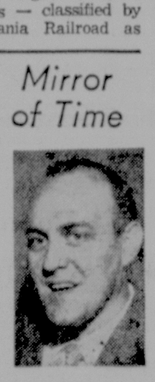

Today they are the ones who say what "shall" and what "shall-not" be on Capitol Hill and throughout Pennsylvania.

Today labor is waiting. Now if ever is their chance for their pet "pro labor" legislation. Their irritation over failure of Democrats earlier is perhaps understandable.

But the big test in all this at this point is how far the administration actually will go now that it has the lion by the tail. Will Pennsylvania Democrats carry out their pledges made fervently and heatedly over the minority years?

Labor leaders should find out before many more moons rise over the eastern slopes of Capitol Hill! The ball is starting to roll.

We regret to advise the readers of this column that our cat, recently acquired to combat the moles, has terminated her position. She crawled into the motor of the car and attempted to stop the fan. Results: One new fan, one brand new radiator. Wanted: One new cat.

The question is raised as to whether the United States information service should tell the world only the good things about America. Perhaps we should settle for a compromise — just reveal enough of our faults to make us lovable.

Reports From Congress

Redistricting Fight

By Congressional Quarterly

Washington — The entire U.S. House delegations from several major states may be forced to run statewide in the 1962 elections unless a way can be found to resolve current deadlocks in the state legislatures over how to draw new Congressional district lines.

Congressional Quarterly's sources in the state capitals revealed stalemates in many states. The result could be one of the largest turnovers of House membership in the 20th Century, with many House committee chairmen and other prominent Congressional leaders losing their jobs.

The problem is especially acute in large states which lose Representatives under the 1960 Census apportionment. Unless the legislatures of these states pass Congressional redistricting laws, ALL the seats in the state must be elected statewide (at large) in 1962.

Barring a sudden wave of compromise solutions, such at-large elections may take place in 1962 in Alabama (8 seats), Illinois (24 seats), Massachusetts (12 seats), Minnesota (8 seats) and Pennsylvania (27 seats).

In addition, irate citizens' groups have launched referendum petitions against redistricting laws already passed in Maryland (8 seats) and Arkansas (4 seats). The petitions could force all of these states' Representatives to run statewide in 1962.

It also appears likely that the legislatures of Michigan, Ohio and Texas will reach no agreement on creating a new district for the one new Member each state received under the new Census apportionment. The old districts will remain intact, but the additional Representative will have to run at large.

Status Report — Because of the 1960 Census reapportionment, 25 states — 9 of which gain, 16 of which lose seats — must redistrict before the 1962 elections to prevent at - large elections.

As of March 20, six states had redistricted — Arkansas (loses 2 seats), Maryland (gains 1), Kansas (loses 1), West Virginia (loses 1), Nebraska (loses 1) and Arizona (gains 1). The Arkansas and Maryland redistricting were being challenged by referendum petition.

As noted above, no action was expected in three states gaining a single member — Michigan, Ohio and Texas.

Some of the hottest redistricting fights were under way in these states:

ALABAMA (drops from 9 to 8 seats) — The Legislature is not scheduled to meet until May but a power struggle is under way between the lightly-populated, over - represented "Black Belt" area of Central and Southwestern Alabama and the more heavily populated and under-represented areas to the North. The struggle threatens to cause a stalemate in Congressional redistricting and force all the Members to run at large in 1962.

CALIFORNIA (gains 8 seats)— An Assembly committee has drawn up an as-yet confidential plan which has aroused opposition among some Congressmen. Republicans have threatened a referendum petition to force at-large election of the new Members if the Democratic - controlled Legislature were to pass a "blindly partisan" redistricting law.

ILLINOIS (loses 1 seat) — Democrats and Republicans are in a struggle over which area should lose the single seat — Democratic Chicago or an outlying Republican area? Democrats presented a plan which saves all of Chicago's current seats, despite a population drop. Republicans have threatened to force an at-large election if Democrats insist on throwing two incumbent GOP Congressmen into a single new district.

MASSACHUSETTS (loses 2 seats) — The Democratic legislature and Republican Governor are at loggerheads over whether one or both of the seats eliminated will be in Republican territory. A stalemate and resulting at-large election in 1962 are considered quite possible.

MINNESOTA (loses 1 seat) — Party control is split in the Legislature. No agreement could be reached in the regular session and the lawmakers are being called back to try again — with prospects for agreement still dark.

PENNSYLVANIA (loses 3 seats) — Deadlock has appeared, mainly because Rep. William J. Green, the Philadelphia Democratic Chairman, insists that Philadelphia retain its current 6 House Members even though the city is entitled to only 5 on a population basis. Republicans say they would prefer an at-large election to giving in to Green's demands. Green reportedly feels that Democratic voting blocs in the large cities could dominate an at-large election, but Republicans are willing to take up the challenge, charging big-city "bossism."

In addition to the above states, the legislatures are currently in session in Florida (gains 4 seats), Hawaii (gains 1), Iowa (loses 1), Maine (loses 1), Missouri (loses 1) and North Carolina (loses 1). Despite some disagreements, observers believe these state legislatures will be able to agree on redistricting plans and avoid at-large elections.

The New York Legislature will be called into special session later this year to consider redistricting. The legislatures of Kentucky (loses 1 seat) and Mississippi (loses 1) are not due to meet until 1962. No action is expected in New Jersey (gains 1) until 1962, since party control in the Legislature is currently divided and both the Legislature and Governorship elections are set for November 1961.

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor

By Burton H. Fern, M. D.

Dear Doctor: Where can I find more information about "Calories Anonymous"?

Miss J. S.

Dear Miss S.: There's no national organization. You can organize your own club with a few calorie - cutting friends. Then, whenever you're tempted to give in to that cream pie or fudge sundae, you simply phone another member for moral support.

This method works well as long as the other member doesn't give in, too, and you both dig into that cream pie — a la mode with fudge sauce!

Too Much Lemon Juice?

Dear Doctor: My friend drinks lemon juice to help her stomach. She uses three lemons a day for three days, skips three days and then begins again. Is all this acid harmful?

Mrs. J. R.

Dear Mrs. R.: Strangely enough, lemon juice makes your system less acid, because the body turns it to an alkaline ash. The sour taste of lemon juice may start extra juices flowing, but so will any tart food.

You don't need a magic three-day ritual or a dozen sour lemons to sweeten one stomach!

No Boric Acid

Dear Doctor: Is boric acid a good eye wash for babies?

Mrs. R. R.

Dear Mrs. R.: No! A pinch of salt in a glass of water works just as well.

Clear boric acid solutions look like ordinary drinking water and kill many babies annually. Boric acid is such a weak antiseptic that it once spread an infection throughout a newborn nursery.

Can He Trumpet?

Dear Doctor: I was a trumpet player until I suffered a small heart attack last year. Will trumpet playing hurt my heart now?

Mr. N. G.

Dear Mr. G.: When you hold your breath and tighten your chest to blow high notes, blood is dammed back from those vital arteries that nourish heart muscle.

This won't matter if your heart's as good as new, but only your doctor knows about that. If he gives the O.K., then blow your horn!

Blurry Vision

Dear Doctor: Ever since a cataract operation, everything looks blurry. Why?

Mr. G. S.

Dear Mr. S.: The lens not only focuses your eye, it also shrinks the picture. Now each eye sees a different size image and you see double. This double image disappears if you use only one eye.

Sometimes a contact lens can replace the one snatched by the surgeon and restore stereo vision.

From The Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton

Several changes have been proposed in the present postal rates and if they are approved some additional new issues and values of stamps will have to be made. Some of the increases proposed and the new stamps that would be necessary if they are to be put into effect July 1 are;

For regular foreign postage 11 cents instead of the present eight cents—would mean a new eleven cent stamp.

Air letter sheets increased from 10 to 11 cents — new air letter sheets.

Air mail postcard rate from five to six cents — new air mail postcards.

Air mail rates to Central and South America would increase from 10 to 13 cents — new 13-cent air mail stamp needed.

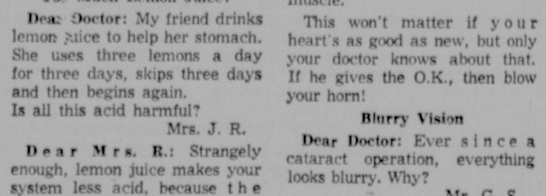

Postcards from three to four cents — new postcards needed.

Domestic air mail letter from seven to eight cents per ounce—this would mean new eight-cent air mail stamps, coils and booklet panes.

The regular postage rate for letters from four to five cents—no new stamp necessary. If all the above changes are approved and go into effect it will mean eight new issues, besides stamped envelopes.

Club News

The Monroe Stamp Club had a mixture night at the last meeting, and a report was given on the stamp club chess players who "took on" the Chess Club—with no success; maybe next year we may do better. The usual in-between meeting session will be held tonight at Ray Patton's, and the program committee will also hold a meeting at this time.

Justifiably Incensed

Dear Mr. Editor:

A man sits in a court dock in Israel accused of killing 6,000,000 Jews. The memories of those who died in World War Two and Korea are vivid. In Cuba and all over the world there are tribulations that bestir us.

And a lady is justifiably incensed at someone killing her cat. Sometimes I think our perspective is awry. But then things we can see and feel are more real to us than things afar or things a bit in the abstract.

I am amazed that cats can and are killed by cars. I have tried to run over them on the highway (wild ones, of course, out preying on birds and young rabbits) and they invariably are too fast.

Cats are usually very intent and alert to danger or the presence of people or cars — that is, unless they are more intent on prey.

The driver who ran over the cat is wrong, of course, because he probably also lacks the same regard for people. Which may be symptomatic of society in general.

Swedes Help ESSC Initiation

TWO distinguished Swedish individuals appeared Monday night at the Spring initiation dinner of East Stroudsburg State College's honorary fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta.

Dr. Lars Ahnebrink of Uppale University, now visiting professor at the University of Calinia, dropped by ESSC on his way to New York, joining his wife who was scheduled speaker at the dinner.

This worked out very well indeed, for Mrs. Ahnebrink was suffering from a cold, and although able to deliver her address was happy to turn the question and answer period over to her capable husband.

American Studies Groups

Both the Ahnebrinks are interested in introducing American studies into the schools and colleges of Sweden. Dr. Ahnebrink is chairman of the Nordic Group for American Studies, which includes all five Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. Ahnebrink's field is American Literature. She is head of the English department at Statens Nomalskola, Stockholm, and at present is preparing her doctorial dissertation on Theodore Dreiser.

She spoke to the fraternity on the topic, "The Suppression of Sister Carrie."

Explodes Theory

In the speaker's words, she "exploded an erroneous theory" that the delay in publishing Dreiser's manuscript of Sister Carrie by Doubleday, Page & Co., was due to Mr. Doubleday's puritanical wife.

Rather, Mrs. Ahnenbrink discovered in the course of her research, which included personal interviews with Mrs. Dreiser shortly before her death, it was "Frank Doubleday, the publisher himself who was shocked at the sex and the frankness of Sister Carrie," and who delayed publication.

Initiation services of new members, and honorary members, took place before dinner and included the induction of Deborah Gaul, Anthony Messenlehner, Harry Schaeffer, Mary Sue Strine, Joan Carol Sullivan and, in absentia, Anthony Cesare.

Dr. and Mrs. Ahnebrink and Glenn H. Blayney, assistant professor of English at ESSC, were made honorary members.

Other Guests

Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler were present at the dinner. Dr. Koehler greeted the Swedish scholars on behalf of the college. Miss Ruth Bonner, of the English department at Kutztown State College, attended, as did Raymond Kohn, desk editor at the Associated Press, New York.

Almost the complete roster of the ESSC English faculty was present, also. The dinner was held at Heddy's Hawaiian Room, Route 209.

Asks Redefining Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., has proposed that President Kennedy and Congress redefine the Monroe Doctrine to let the Soviet Union know it applies to Communist subversion and indirect aggression.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and senior GOP member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said his suggestion was prompted by the seriousness of the situation in Cuba.

In the past, he said in an interview, the Monroe Doctrine's warning to other nations to keep hands off the Western Hemisphere has been interpreted as applying to movements to troops and warships or other overt acts of aggression.

The House Of The Week

'Country Kitchen' For A Colonial Look

By David L. Bowen

IF YOU'RE looking for a modest-sized three bedroom home with loads of Early American atmosphere, this design would suit you. like hot cakes with maple syrup.

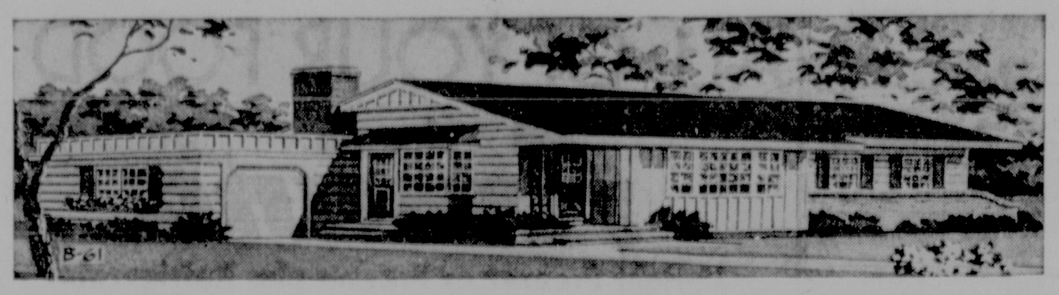

B-61 in the House of the Week series has a big "country kitchen," warmed by a full fledged fireplace and brightened by wide sliding glass doors opening onto the rear terrace.

Architect Herman H. York admittedly concentrated on the kitchen in this home in an effort to make it as attractive as possible.

"Let's be realistic and admit that the woman's comfort and satisfaction in a home are more important than the man's," he boldly explains. "She is the one who spends the most time in the house: She sleeps in it, works in it, worries in it, and either enjoys life or doesn't inside those four walls. The man is out of the house at least half his waking hours and sometimes more.

"Assuming there are children in the family, a good part of that woman's time each day is going to be spent in the kitchen," York continues. "Therefore it's only common sense that the kitchen must be a pleasant place to work or otherwise the woman is getting short-changed."

B-61 takes care of this with a large 13 by 16-foot wood paneled room, complete with larder and shallow pantry designed right into a wall partition. If the owner wishes to carry the Early American theme to the limit, the exposed ceiling beams in the kitchen could be adzed to look just as they did in Colonial days.

HOUSE WITH HEART—Five rooms and 1,135 sq. ft. of living area make up this ranch design with neat covered entrance porch and bay window at the side. Featured inside is a large "country kitchen."

Elsewhere, there are three bedrooms (or two bedrooms and a den), bath and comfortable dining-living room. Plans show a full basement, but the home could be built on slab foundation with utilities placed in the area shown for basement stairs. The one-car garage is attached at the side. Living area of the house is 1,135 square feet. Over-all width is 54 feet, 6 inches and depth is 38 feet, 1 inch.

Additional Details

B-61's small size and one-floor arrangement also makes it highly suitable to a couple looking for a retirement home. With a spare bedroom for visiting guests and a dual use room serving either as den or bedroom, the design provides very well for the needs of the elderly.

A planter - divider in conjunction with the coat closet serves a double purpose in the living room: It creates a pleasant entrance vestibule and marks off part of the living room space as a dining area. This section also enjoys the attractive bay window which dresses up the side elevation.

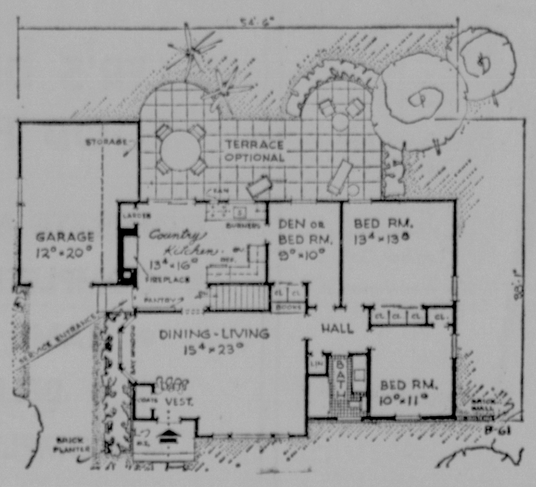

Three different materials are used on the exterior—brick, wood shingles and vertical boards. "You have to be careful not to get a 'banana split' effect with of two different materials on the outside," says York. "But for color styling and accent, two materials in addition to brick usually make for a successful exterior." Use coupon below for ordering Baby Blueprint, 50 cents.

B-61 STATISTICS

This five-room ranch has a modest total of 1,135 square feet of living space. It's special feature is a large country kitchen, complete with fireplace and sliding glass doors opening on the rear terrace.

Plans call for a basement but the home is easily adaptable for construction on a slab foundation.

Over-all dimensions are 54 feet 6 inches in width by 38 feet 1 inch in depth.

FLOOR PLANS—Bedroom arrangement is flexible: either two bedrooms and den, or three sleeping rooms. Planter-divider in living room helps create pleasant vestibule.

EARLY AMERICAN KITCHEN—Artist's conception shows the Early American decor of the big kitchen. If desirted, exposed celing beams can be added for rustic Colonial effect.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: We have asphalt tile flooring throughout our house and we would like to replace it with hardwood floors. Is it necessary to rip up the tile before putting down the hardwood or could we put the flooring right on the tile?

ANSWER: The tiles will have to be removed. Even minute fragments of the tile must not be allowed to remain on the concrete subfloor. We are assuming that the subfloor is concrete, since you said that the tile is installed throughout the house. Before the hardwood flooring is put down, the surface of the concrete must be given a coat of asphalt primer, allowed to dry for 24 hours and then covered with a special asphalt mastic.

QUESTION: We are having trouble with the windows sweating in our kitchen. The water is running down the window panes, off the sills and onto the walls. How can this condition be correcteed?

ANSWER: The sweating is caused by excessive humidity in the kitchen. An exhaust fan would appear to be the solution. This not only will take out the high moisture content, but will remove grease and fumes caused by cooking. You'll probably find that the kitchen walls will stay cleaner a lot longer.

QUESTION: A few years ago we had a textured vinyl fabric installed on the walls of one of our rooms. The fabric is still in good condition, but we have decided that we would like a change of color. Can this be painted? And, if so, is there anything we should know about handling the job?

ANSWER: Yes, vinyl fabric wall covering can be painted. The most important thing is to remove all dirt and stains before beginning to paint. Ordinary surface dirt and most spots can be washed off with a detergent. When you run into a spot that will not wash off, use an odorless paint thinner on a clean cloth and rub vigorously. If the spot still does not come off, substitute a bristle brush for the cloth. Textured vinyl fabric can "take" this sort of treatment without damage. When the wall covering is completely dry, apply a coat of oil-type primer-sealer. When the primer-sealer is dry, put on the finish coat. There are many types of quality paint that will be satisfactory, but the kind most generally recommended by paint experts is an alkyd flat paint or enamel.

Helpful Hints For Painting Basement Of Your House

BY PAINTING your basement walls a light, pleasing color, you can make it a more comfortable and cheerful place whether you use it as a playroom, workshop, laundry or all three.

Selection of the right paint, proper surface preparation and correct application provide the answer for a lasting and satisfactory paint job, according to the National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Association. The paint used must be one that will resist the alkalinity of the concrete, cement, cinder block, mortar or other masonry of which the wall is built.

The paint industry has developed a number of different quality coatings designed for use on basement walls. These include latex, or water-thinned masonry paints; Portland-cement paints, reinforced masonry paints and the so-called swimming pool paints.

Be sure, however, that you use only quality paints. Only quality paint has lasting hiding power, retains its color brillance, and is wear and weather resistant. To be sure that you are getting a quality product, ask a friend or neighbor who has had a satisfactory paint job which brand he used or consult your established, reputable paint dealer.

Proper surface preparation consists of removing dirt, dust and any crumbly material by vigorous brushing and, if necessary, scrubbing with water and a detergent. Grease or oil must be removed by wiping with odorless paint thinner, providing sufficient ventilation and refraining from smoking. All cracks and holes should be filled with the special products your paint dealer sells for that purpose.

Easiest to apply for most home-owners are the latex paints which are odorless, dry in an hour or less and do not show lap marks. The walls do not have to be dry when latex is applied. It should be remembered that these paints stain badly when in contact with iron and steel, so if there are any metal objects attached to the wall, they must be primed with an anti-corrosive primer before latex is brushed or rolled on.

Portland cement paints are also very popular; they are the only paints which will prevent moisture from coming through a wall under low pressure. But no interior coating can be expected to hold back water coming through a wall from the outside under much pressure. These paints cannot be used over painted surfaces unless the old paint was cement paint.

The only sure way to keep basement walls dry is for the outside to be given a heavy coat of asphalt before backfilling; this should have been done when the house was built. Then any of the paints prescribed will do a satisfactory job.

A light color should be used since it is desirable to have the maximum amount of light reflectance. Glossy paints are more easily cleaned and more resistant to mildew, but flat paints have better hiding power and diffuse light better with less glare. They also make any irregularities in the wall less conspicuous than do gloss paints.

Floor and deck enamels designed to withstand abrasion should be used on basement floors. Be sure to get one meant for use on cement. Portland cement paints and ordinary latexes will not hold up under being walked on. Floors that are always damp should not be painted.

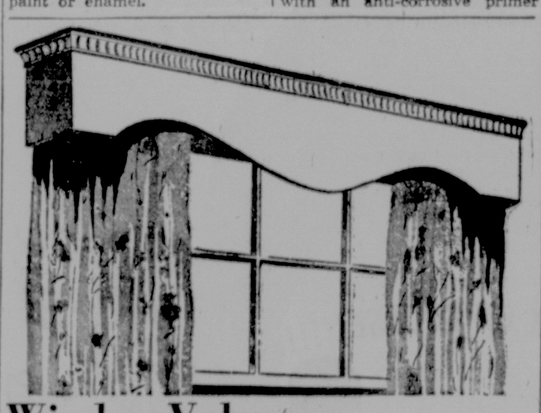

When repainting previously painted walls be sure the old paint is in good condition. Any loose, cracked or peeling paint should be scraped away.

ATTRACTIVE ECONOMY

The use of ¾-inch fir plywood in full-size sheets over framing 4 feet on center makes it possible to eliminate interior wall material, get an attractive post and beam interior in an economical vacation home.

Window Valance Is Easy To Build

SINCE the decorating season is again in full bloom, not that it's ever out of season, everyone interested in dressing up their windows will find this valance a big help. Solving a decorating problem need not be expensive if you make what you need.

Department stores everywhere provide excellent instructions on how to make and hang draperies, how to upholster chairs and many other "how to" home improvements. The key to success in doing anything, is to just get started.

The older we grow, the less we want to attempt doing something we haven't done before. Break away from this lethargy and you enter a bright new world.

The wood valance illustrated above is typical of what you can make in an evening's time. The full size pattern simplifies making this attractive valance to any length required. The pattern tells what to buy, even shows where to drive nails, screws, etc.

Working with wood is fun because you see something happen. In a matter of a few hours you transform a piece of wood into something that delights the "wife," provides a new conversation piece with you the center of attraction.

Send 25 cents in cash, check or money order for Window Valance, Pattern No. 30, to The Daily Record, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, N. Y. Send additional 35 cents for new Easi-Bild catalog illustrating over 300 other easy to build projects and home improvements books.

By ANDY LANG

THERE are few subjects in the field of housing that can spark more heated discussions than that of discounted mortgages.

Obtain a conventional mortgage for a house you're buying and you'll find that the interest rates will be about 6 per cent, more in some areas of the country. Obtain a mortgage guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration or the Veteran's Administration — and you'll get it at lower interest rates—5¾ per cent if it's FHA, 5¼ per cent if it's VA. BUT, on either of these latter mortgages, the loan will be discounted (that is, reduced) by a certain number of what are called "points." A 4-point discount on a $10,000 mortgage, for example, would amount to $400. This means that, while the face of the loan is $10,000, the amount actually advanced is $9,600.

Since the interest rates on FHA or VA-guaranteed loans are fixed by law, the discount can not be charged to the purchaser and so must be paid by the seller.

Why is there a discount? Apparently to make the yield from a loan as attractive as it would be if the money were invested in some other area in the current market. Or to compensate the lender for the lower yield he receives from an FHA or VA mortgage than from a conventional loan.

The lending institutions say the discount is economically necessary. But they aren't entirely happy with the system. It's often difficult to explain to a good individual customer what it's all about. The seller doesn't see why the discount should come out of his pocket. And there is no doubt that, in some cases, the difference is added to the price of the house and thus is indirectly paid by the purchaser.

The National Assn. of Real Estate Boards has urged Congress to put an end to fixed interest rates, which it says are responsible for the discounts. The National Assn. of Home Builders has been fighting excessive discounts and says they conceal the true cost of money. The president of the American Bankers Assn., Carl A. Bimson, says steep discounts have forced builders to shrink room and lot sizes to make up for the extra cost of financing.

Some states have taken action to declare excessive discounts usurious. Congress has twice set limits on discounts but later had to rescind them because they were not solving the problem. Various suggestions have been advanced before a Congressional committee studying the subject, but there is no unanimous agreement on a solution.

Some experts see mortgage discounts making a gradual disappearance in the months ahead if money continues to get "easier," that is, easier to borrow. Reports from all sections of the country indicate that fewer points are being charged on FHA and VA mortgages than earlier in the year. But some mortgage authorities say that, as soon as business conditions show an improvement and the demand for houses picks up, discounts will return to former level or, at the very least, remain where they are now.

There can be no doubt that the discounting of mortgage loans is generally unpopular. It will be surprising if some legislative action isn't taken in 1961 to eliminate them or keep them under control.

Cedar Is High On Builders List

CEDAR always has been popular for its attractive reddish brown color, but it also is liked particularly for the nice aroma it gives.

Both the handsome color and pleasant fragrance can be obtained simply by using incense cedar, one of the 11 species of lumber from the western pine region, to create closets and cupboards in new homes. In the case of an old house, closets may be lined with incense cedar paneling, and when cupboards and cabinets are being redesigned their shelves may be replaced with those made of incense cedar.

The Western Pine Association points out that the lumber should not be painted or otherwise finished when it is being used for its fragrance. If the scent begins to fade after a period of time it may be restored by giving the wood a light sanding.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Mayor Jesse Flory isn't running for re-election, that's plain. I had stopped in to catch a glimpse of that fabulous orchestra of women—whose average age is 79—who were playing at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. And was met by Mayor Flory at the door with the question: "Well, where's your instrument?". Well, indeed!

Actually, I doubt if I'd have minded being mistaken for one of that orchestra who looked mighty pert and gay with their red rose corsages and who sounded even gayer. That pianist is terrific!

But what is more terrific is the fact that they have such fun for themselves that they are an inspiration to everybody who may find their years weighing with undue heaviness. It's never too late— not even to get on television.

But for me, it's always too late for the neat little schedule I think I've worked out for the day. Mostly it's my own fault: like an old firehouse when the bell rings, I go dashing off to see for myself when anything sounds too good to be true.

But you help. With me with a nine o'clock deadline, you phone in ten stories between 8:50 and 9:05. Things are bound to get hectic. My only consolation is that in "the great woman's heart of us all," we're all putter-offers.

Only thing I can't seem to put off almost indefinitely is eating and checking the mail box.

County Projects Reported By Churchwomen

The board of managers of the Monroe County Council of United Churchwomen at their meeting at Grace United Church of Christ, Tannersville, reviewed their major united efforts.

Mrs. Edward Horn presided in the absence of Mrs. Claude Leister who is ill.

Major report was the plans for the May Fellowship meeting to be held May 5 with Mrs. Mahlon Hallett and Mrs. Wendell Wicks as chairman at the Middle Smithfield Church with Rev. Charles H. Park speaking on the theme "The Church Free and Responsible." Luncheon will be held at Sunnybrook Camp.

Mrs. Charles Ruloff, chairman of the World Day of Prayer reported that 210 had attended and that the collection had been $191.27.

Mrs. Alphord Meyers reported plans had been launched for World Community Day in the Fall.

The budget presented by Mrs. Joseph Carr Jr. was approved.

Day Students Honor Srs. At Banquet

The annual banquet of the Women's Day Student Assn. of East Stroudsburg State College, honoring senior women, was held last night at Greenview Guest Farm, Sciota.

Dr. Eugene Powers, head of the department of education, was the main speaker and Miss Ruth L. Jones, dean of women, was a guest.

The group was welcomed by Sandra Carlton of Delaware Water Gap, new president, and also heard a brief talk by Miss Carol Dildine of Stroudsburg, the out-going president.

Gifts were presented to the seniors by Miss Dildine and Terry Dougherty of East Stroudsburg, secretary of the association.

Miss Carol Hilyard spoke for the seniors and was presented a special gift for her three years of service to women day students. She served as secretary, vice president and president of the association and is currently president of the Women's Executive Council, a post not generally given to a day student.

Decorations were in charge of Miss Joan Hester, new vice president, while Miss Carol owens and Miss Andrea Farris were in charge of invitations and finances.

Sixth Graders, Parents Alerted For Junior High

Sixth graders of the Smithfield School joined their parents in attending the Parent Teachers Assn. meeting on Monday night when the subject was "Orientation for Junior High School."

Theodore Miller, principal of the East Stroudsburg Junior High School, had prepared his talk especially for students leaving elementary school. He outlined for his alert audience the importance of the steps they will be taking when they gradaute into Junior High School.

He explained in detail the enlarged curriculum, the classroom set-up and the extra curricular activities available. These include a Junior Band of 90 members, a Seventh Grade Chorus of about 75 members and a student council.

"There will be real adjustments for you to make," Miller said. "You will be leaving one-teacher classrooms for study with as many as ten different teachers in different rooms. The pace is faster, the academic challenges more demanding. But we find that most students find their way quickly and adapt in a few days to the more comprehensive program."

Reassuring his listeners that they would receive all the help and cooperation they needed from the faculty, he advised them to begin thinking and working now toward the transition. He invited the class to come to the new junior-senior high school a few days before it opens in the Fall to familiarize themselves with the layout of the building and to learn their schedules and grade assignations.

The annual business meeting preceded his talk with the outgoing president, Morgan Hebard Jr. presiding. Unanimously elected for the new school year were Mrs. Joseph Lyons, president; Mrs. Edward Bollard, vice president; Mrs. Joan Staples, secretary; and Earl Brister, treasurer.

Still in this year's schedule are: the Spring dinner to be held Thursday, May 27 at the Marshall's Creek firehouse and a Spring Hoedown to be held at Mountain Manor in Marshall's Creek sponsored by the PTA.

Other spring events include the district-wide Elementary School Music Program to be held May 5 at the H. M. Hill School and the Monroe County Council of Parents and Teachers at the Smithfield School on May 24, coinciding with the Smithfield School Art Exhibit.

Michael Jacabella's sixth grade won the attendance award and refreshments were served by Mrs. Harvey Huffman, hospitality chairman.

ES Secondary PTA Elects Rev. William Petcovic

Rev. William Petcovic was elected president of the East Stroudsburg Secondary Parent Teachers Assn. at their meeting on Monday night at the Area Joint High School.

Other officers elected and installed by Russell Pritchard, president of the Monroe County PTA Council, were Raymond Cortright, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Gould, secretary; and Mrs. Donald Berger, treasurer.

Paul Bartholomew, retiring president, presided at the meeting. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Raymond Gould, and the treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Cortright, who reported a balance of $143.24 in the treasury.

Mrs. Clarence Plattenburg, chairman of the school census committee, reported on her meeting with Mrs. Pauline Peterson, supervisor of elementary education. Mrs. Plattenburg was named chairman of all six districts to be assisted by a co-captain in each district. The census must be completed by May 15, 1961.

Gordon Bitterman gave the report of the nominating committee which included two candidates for president, secretary, and treasurer: Rev. William Petcovic and Charles Miller, Mrs. Raymond Gould, and Mrs. Earl Bush, Mrs. Fred Fatzinger and Mrs. Donald Berger. Paul Van Gordon was nominated as representative at school board meetings, but the PTA voted to refer the matter of an appointment of a representative to the executive committee.

Bartholomew appointed an auditing committee: Gordon Bitterman, chairman; Stanley Smith and Mrs. William Petcovic. The audit is to be completed before May 22.

May 22 is the date of the final PTA meeting of the year to be held in the high school cafeteria at 8 p.m. The new president will preside and new officers will take over their duty.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gordon Bitterman and her committee.

Falsie Wins Leg Show Auction By Democrats

An artificial leg confused the bidders at the Leg Social Auction held recently by the Middle Smithfield Democratic Club at the Hotel Pines.

Choosing their partners by bidding on "leg-view" alone, George Fenical Jr. of Echo Lake was high bidder on the artificial leg slipped into the show by Mrs. Nelson Westbrook. However, since he also got Mrs. Westbrook as dinner partner, he insistes he got his money's worth.

The club is sponsoring another event on Saturday night at the Locust Grove House, featuring a floor show of local and professional talent, with round and square dancing and refreshments following the entertainment. Tickets will be available at the door.

Young Dancers To Entertain At Banquet

Barrett — Students in the Stroudsburg and Barrett Tiny Tots and School Age Ballet classes will provide the program at the Mother-Daughter Banquet Saturday night.

Karen Roth taught the classes during the winter months at both branches of the YMCA. Costumes have been arranged by the parents.

The banquet begins with roast beef at 6 p.m. All mothers and daughters in the Barrett area are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by calling the Barrett YMCA, LY 5-2730.

Fathers and brothers of the little ballerinas are invited to see the recital beginning at 7 p.m. at Laurel Grove Inn, Canadensis.

Winterthur Trip Scheduled By Woman's Club

The Women's Club of the Stroudsburgs is sponsoring a bus trip to Winterthur, home of the DuPonts near Wilmington on May 9th.

In addition to touring the three outstanding rooms of Henry Francis DuPont in the Winterthur Museum, they will also visit the Spring flowers and azeleas in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. DuPont.

The combined tour of gardens and museum is available only in May.

Reservations for the trip may be made by calling Miss Margaret Mutchler, HA 1-7027.

Mrs. Osborn Heads Past Noble Grands

Newfoundland—Mrs. Mathelda Osborn, South Sterling, was elected president of the Past Noble Grands of Ladies of Paupack Rebekah Lodge at the April meeting.

She will head these officers also elected during the business session: Edna Malsom, vice president; Marion Gilpin, secretary; and Agnes Waltz, treasurer.

The unit will meet again on May 1 at the home of Marion Carlton, LaAnna. Mrs. Carlton will be assisted by Ethel Whittaker and Anna Carlton.

Adams-Mackes

Yayne F. Adams, Brodheadsville, Star Route, and Rosalie Mae Mackes, Saylorsburg, applied for a marriage license yesterday from N. Henry Fenner, Monroe County clerk of orphans' court.

Stroud Club Board

The Stroud Community Club executive board will meet Thursday night at 8 at the home of Mrs. Walter Olenick, East Stroudsburg.

ONE NIGHT STANDS hold no terrors for the Presbyterian Homes Orchestra, whose average age is 79. 'All-Girl' Orchestra Adds Music To Subtract Years, Concerts Here Prove

Two-a-day performances are hard even on young musicians and one-night-stands are taxing for professional musicians but no such complaints were heard yesterday from an "orchestra" of 16 women, whose average age is 79.

They gave two concerts: one at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church in the afternoon, and the other following the family night supper at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Moreover, there was no travel by plush bus for this group. "We drive ourselves, naturally," they remarked. "We've got cars and good drivers."

The members of the orchestra are residents of the Presbyterian Homes in Newville and Carlyle and give an average of two concerts a week, traveling all over the place.

They have even appeared on television including the Garry Moore Show, packing their instruments with them, including, cymbals, triangles, rattles, and a homemade bass viol. The pianist admits to 84. Their conductor can whistle as well as conduct, and everybody has a good time.

The group stayed last night in local homes and are already planning next week's trip to Berwick.

Political Briefing For State's GOP Vice Chairmen

A warning against sapping the independence of young people by increasing controls was issued by George I. Bloom, chairman of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania, in speaking before the first Vice Chairman's Conference held in Harrisburg.

Highlighting his talk was a quotation from Henig Prentice of Lancaster:

"Do people like to commit national suicide? Is there something to that popular expression about not being able to stand prosperity. You can find the answer in history; for in every case there seems to be a pattern—a formula—for the rise to success and the fall to failure.

"As I see it the historical cycle has always run: from bondage to spiritual faith; from spiritual faith to courage; from courage to freedom; from freedom to abundance; from abundance to selfishness; from selfishness to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to fear; from fear to dependency; from dependency to bondage."

Bloom cautioned: The boys and girls of this generation should have the same opportunities we have had to choose and build a life for themselves. We must not allow our government to infer by increased control that they are not competent to look after themselves. We must continue to work so that this present generation and the one to follow will have the greatest amount of freedom."

Bloom was introduced by state vice chairman, Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell, who had arranged the conference to include all state committeewomen and vice chairmen. More than 70 persons representing 40 counties attended.

From this Congressional district, representatives included Mrs. Frances W. Chase, Northampton County; Mrs. Marie E. Mayer, Carbon County; and Mrs. Mary E. Fontanella of Monroe County.

As lead-off speaker, Bloom included his report of his years as chairman. "When I came into office 4½ years ago we were $368,000 in debt and had an office of four rooms. At present, we have only current bills and are in our own office building."

He outlined the duties of the committeewomen, emphasizing the need for finances at the county and precinct levels and commended the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women as one of the greatest instruments for good to the state committee and to the Republican party.

Other highlights of the program included "The Pennsylvania Precinct Play" by Craig Truax, Bloom's assistant; "Start Where You Stand" by Mrs. W. Harland Underwood, committeewoman from Chester Co. and a discussion on "Pyramiding for '62" by national committeewoman, Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon.

Following the luncheon, national committeeman Robert L. Johnson; Mrs. Louise H. Russell, secretary of the state committee; and George M. Merrell, chairman of the Young Republicans of the state spoke.

Local Medics' Wives Busy In State-Wide Conference

The wives of Monroe County physicians had an active role in the 15th annual conference of the Women's Aux. to the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

The opening session was called to order by the state president, Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield of East Stroudsburg, on Thursday, April 20 at the Hotel Penn-Harris in Harrisburg. Mrs. Allison J. Berlin, of Coraopolis, president-elect, was conference presiding officer.

Panel discussions were held on Thursday and Friday concerning membership, public relations, legislation, health careers, American Medical Education Fund, mental health, public health, rural health, archives, medical benevolence, SAMA, educational fund and safety and disaster.

Mrs. Thomas I. Metzgar, Stroudsburg, as State Archives chairman, participated in the panel, "Among Ourselves and for Ourselves."

The guest of honor was Mrs. Harlan English, president-elect of the Woman's Aux. to the American Medical Society, who addressed the conference.

Thomas M. McCreary, M.D., president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society and William F. Brennan, M.D., chairman of the advisory committee, brought greetings at the luncheon at which Mrs. Caulfield presided and introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Francis E. Reinberger, professor of practical theology at Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. His subject was "Some Needs of the Creative Years, a Study in Relationship."

Other guest speakers included Daniel H. Bee, MD., president-elect of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, Harold B. Gardner, M.D., secretary of the Pa. Medical Society; and Russell B. Ruth, M.D., chairman and W. Menson Harer, MD., vice chairman of the board of trustees of the state society.

Out of state guests included the president and president-elect of the New York Aux., the first vice-president of the New Jersey Aux., the president of the Delaware Aux. and the president-elect of the West Virginia Medical Assn.

Mrs. Horace G. Butler, state corresponding secretary, gave her report at the meeting of the board of directors preceding the regular session.

Also attending from Monroe County were Mrs. John L. Rumsey, president, and Mrs. Evan C. Reese, president-elect of the Women's Aux. to the county society.

Red's Error Hurts

Braves Top Cards With Big Inning

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, trailing 2-1, scored three runs, one unearned, on three hits and an error in the eighth inning Tuesday night and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3.

The unearned run came on an error by the Braves' former teammate, Red Schoendienst.

The winner, Lew Burdette (1-0) yielded 6 hits. He walked 2 and struck out 4.

Musial Homer

Stan Musial hit his second home run of the year in the ninth for the Cardinals but it was to no avail.

Up until the eighth, Cardinal starter and loser Curt Simmons (1-1) had held the Braves to one run on six hits.

But he weakened and was replaced by Lindy McDaniel.

K. C. Bombs Twins 20-2

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics pummeled the Minnesota Twins 20-2 Tuesday night and presented young Norm Bass with his first major league pitching victory.

The crushing defeat ruined the Minnesotans' chance to climb into a first place American League tie with the Detroit Tigers, whose game with New York was rained out.

The A's exploded 16 hits against starter Ed Sadowski and six other pitchers, and also benefited from 10 bases on balls, two wild pitches and two Minnesota errors. Sadowski retired after giving up six runs in the third inning. The A's got three more in the fourth off Fred Bruckbauer and clobbered Paul Giel and Ray Moore for eight more in a farcical sixth inning when 14 batters went to the plate. Marv Throneberry finally ended the inning by striking out with the bases loaded.

Altogether there were 19 bases on balls in the game.

Haywood Sullivan swung the heaviest of the Kansas City bats, hitting two triples, a double and a single as well as drawing a base on balls.

Indy Softball Opens Season With 4 Teams

THE FOUR-team Industrial Softball League opens its season Tuesday, May 2, at 6 p.m. The games will be played at the Kulp's Foundry Field.

Three teams, Line Material, Coates Board and Carton Co. and Trumatic Machine Co. are returning from last year's league, with Wyckoff-Sears a new entry.

The league had a possibility of nine teams but due to working hours in various plants and layoffs, only four teams entered.

The Industrial Management Club will offer a trophy to the winner of the league. Kulp's Foundry won the trophy three years in a row and retired it last year.

The league will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Monroe County YMCA. All entry fees and rosters must be presented at the meeting.

Mix-Up May Cause S. U. 9-0 Defeat

STROUD Union High School may have lost its first Lehigh Valley League baseball game, without stepping on the field.

The Mounties were scheduled (by the Northampton schedule) to play the Konkrete Kids yesterday at Northampton. But the Stroud Union schedule lists the game for today.

The mix-up occurred some months ago when the league schedule was being made up. Northampton asked to have the date changed because of a track meet today. The new date was agreed upon and marked on one of the copies of the Stroud Union schedule.

Different Schedule

But when it came time to work in exhibition games, another copy of the league schedule, which listed the Northampton game for today, was used.

The two schools will try to settle the problem today. League officials could rule the game a forfeit and award Northampton a 9-0 victory.

Rain forced postponement of the Coplay at East Stroudsburg, Bangor at Fountainhill and Pleasant Valley at Lehighton games. Also called off was the Muhlenberg and East Stroudsburg State College girls' tennis match at College Hill.

Bus Trouble

The Bangor-Fountainhill and East Stroudsburg-Coplay games will be played today. No date has been set for the Pleasant Valley-Lehighton game.

Bangor not only was struck by weather problems but also by automotive ones.

On the way home from the rained out Fountainhill game (called after one and a half innings) the Bangor bus was rammed by an automobile on the Hill-To-Hill in Bethlehem. No one was injured in the accident but the bus and auto were heavily damaged.

Mauch Again Says Phillies Will Improve

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gene Mauch, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, said Tuesday night he's sure of one thing—his club will win more games this season than the 59 it won last year.

"We're building slowly," Mauch said shortly after rain and wet grounds forced the postponement of the Phillies-Pittsburgh Pirates game at Forbes Field.

"I think we're on our way even though it will take a little time," he continued. "We lost a lot of games last year because of first year mistakes. We tried to correct them this spring. I think this club will improve as it goes along."

Mauch said his club could just as easily have a 7 and 4 or even an 8 and 3 record right now instead of the 4-7 chart it actually has.

Pitching, Defense Excellent

"We played pretty good ball in most of our early games . . .," he commented. "Both my pitching and defense have been excellent. I believe they're the solid foundation for a winning club. Now, if we could add some consistent hitting we'd cause trouble for a few clubs."

The Pirates and Phillies are scheduled to tangle again Wednesday night — weather permitting. Vinegar Bend Mizell (-10)has been tabbed to start for the Pirates against Philadelphia's Dallas Green (1-0). Both were slated to pitch Tuesday night's game.

Tuesday night's contest was not re-scheduled immediately but a Pirate spokesman said it probably would be played in July or August.

ESSC Drops Track Meet To Montclair

MONTCLAIR, N. J. — Montclair State College scored wins in eight events Tuesday for a 77½-48½ victory over East Stroudsburg State College in a dual track meet.

Russ Hopewell and Dave Buchy scored double wins for East Stroudsburg. Hopewell won the broad jump with a jump of 20'1½" and had a 5'10" effort in the high jump.

Buchy swept the mile and two mile runs. He had a 4:43.6 time in the mile and a 10:43.4 two mile clocking.

The Warriors' Lou Murdock set a school mark in the 120-yard low hurdles. The race is normally run at a 220-yard distance but Montclair does not have a 220-yard straight-a-way. Murdock's time was 13.3 seconds.

The only other Warrior winner was Jim MacConnell, who took the discus.

Injured Romano To Miss Games

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Herb Elliott, the world's fastest miler, labored to a narrow victory in a mile race Monday. It took him 4 minutes, 9.9 seconds to do it.

The 22-year-old Australian star, who is putting his science studies before his running, looked out of condition as he ran in Cambridge University's mile trial for the meet against Oxford University next month.

Coming into the stretch Elliott was seven yards behind Martin Heaht. He doggedly narrowed the gap and finally got in front only five yards from the finish line.

New Detroit Fight Group

DETROIT (AP)—Formation of the Detroit Boxing Club to stage fights in Detroit's new civil Center was announced Tuesday.

Max C. Handler and Sol Eisenberg, Detroit businessmen, said they hope to hold their first bout about June 15. Handler is chairman of the new club and Eisenberg president.

STILL TWO-TON TONY — Tony Galento, former heavyweight boxer might have downed a five pound piece of corned beef at the Hotel Show last night if Sam Langelle, of the Monroe County Police Reserve hadn't stepped in to protect the merchandise. Galento was only gagging for photographer but his 250-pounds indicate that he doesn't gag at the dinner table. Galento is doing public relations work for an area brewery. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Birds Start Fast To Beat Tribe

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles did all their scoring in the first five innings while the Cleveland Indians were going hitless against southpaw Steve Barber and then hung on to win 5-2 Tuesday night.

Barber eventually was reached for five hits, three of them two-baggers, and was removed with two out and two on in the ninth. Hoyt Wilhelm relieved him and struck out Jim Piersall on three pitches to preserve Barber's second victory against one loss.

The Orioles got only two more hits than Cleveland, but one of them was a homer by first baseman Jim Gentile and three were doubles.

Bell Beaten

Gary Bell was the victim of the Oriole runs, all driven in by Gentile and Jerry Adair, and went down to his third straight defeat.

Second baseman Johnny Temple broke the Barber spell as second batter in the sixth with a double. He scored on Willie Kirkland's single.

Jackie Brandt led off for the Orioles in the first with a double and came home on Gentile's third homer of the season and then left the game with a pulled leg muscle.

Gentile singled behind Brooks Robinson's double in the fifth for another run.

Adair singled home Ron Hansen in the second and knocked him in with a double in the fourth.

Cleveland scored its second run off Barber in the eighth on a double by Vic Power behind a walk and fielder's choice.

Denver AFL Team May Be Peddled

DENVER (AP) — Reports persisted Tuesday that a group of Denver businessmen — identities not disclosed—is seeking to buy control of Rocky Mountain Empire Sports, Inc.

This organization owns the denver Broncos of the American Football League, the Denver Bears of the American Association triple A baseball circuit and Bears Stadium, where both teams perform.

No Comment

Robert L. Howsam is president and general manager of both clubs. He has refused comment on the rumors.

The Broncos lost heavily at the gate in the AFL's first season last fall, as did the other seven teams in the new professional loop.

The deadline for posting a $100,000 performance bond in the league's second season has been passed without any response from the Broncos.

Elliott Just Wins Mile Race

BALTIORE (AP) — Cleveland catcher John Romano, hit in the back of the head by a pitch at Kansas City Sunday, will not be in the lineup when the Indians open a three-game series against the Baltimore Orioles Monday night.

Manager Jimmy Dykes said Romano was "all right, but I'm not going to use him tonight."

Romano was hit by a pitch thrown by A's pitcher Ed Rakow in the eighth inning. He was taken to Bethany Hospital in Kansas City for observation, but released in time to make the flight to Baltimore.

PARIS (AP) — The Algerian insurrection made itself felt in the French sports world Tuesday as two bicycle races were canceled.

Johnson's Win Attracts Offers

By NOAH HALPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What a difference a day—or two fights—can make in the lives of a fighter and his manager.

Manager Pat Olivieri spoke thus Tuesday as acclaim and acknowledgement was heaped on him and Harold Johnson following Johnson's successful defense of his light heavyweight title.

Olivieri has been Johnson's manager since the Philadelphian was reinstated from a suspension that followed the "doped orange" fight with Julio Mederos six years ago.

In that time, said Olivieri, fights were few (14) and far between against insignificant opponents and for small purses. "And not many people stopped you on the street to find out how things were going," said Olivieri.

Big Change

Two fights—When Johnson won the National Boxing Association version of the title in January and his two-round TKO of Von Clay Monday night at the Arena—have changed all that.

"Things are different now," said Olivieri. "Harold was impressive and now promoters like Teddy Brenner (New York matchmaker) are interested in us. And everyone is our friend."

Olivieri said that he still wasn't too interested in a tentative match offered by Brenner against Guilio Rinaldi June 10 in Madison Square Garden. Archie Moore, who is recognized as division champion in Europe, New York and Massachusetts, is slated for the Rinaldi fight but Brenner feels he may not be able to pare down to 175 pounds, the division limit.

Must Be Recognized

Olivieri reiterated that he probably would take the fight only if Johnson is recognized as champion "because he's unquestionably the best."

In the "doped orange fight," Johnson was unable to answer the bell for round four. He claimed he had been made ill by an orange he ate just before entering the ring. When Johnson returned from his suspension, no one was particularly interested in him.

Olivieri, who runs a restaurant, put a lot of money into Johnson, waiting for the big break that came only this year when Johnson got the NBA title bout with Jesse Bowdry.

Twins Top K. C. 10-6

KANSAS CITY AP — The Minnesota Twins scored four runs in the 10th inning of an error-plagued baseball game Monday night for a 10-6 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The victory kept the second-place Twins within one-half game of Detroit, which retained its American League lead by defeating New York.

Conley Wins First Start For Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Gene Conley, fresh from his labors with basketball's Boston Celtics, was staked to a 4-0 lead in the second inning Tuesday and went on to a 6-1 seven-hit victory over Washington in his debut with the Boston Red Sox.

The 6-foot-8 right-hander, who helped the Celtics to their third straight National Basketball Association championship only weeks ago, struck out four and walked four in his first Red Sox start. He was acquired from Philadelphia in a straight player swap for Frank Sullivan last winter.

Late Trouble

He ran into trouble in the ninth, giving up leadoff singles to Dale Long and Gene Woodling and Mike Fornieles came on to mop up for him, Long scoring on a double play.

Boston jumped on starter and loser Pete Burnside (0-1) for four runs on as many hits in the second inning, and put it out of reach with two more off John Gabler in the fifth.

And Now There Are Four Hard Jobs

DR. FRANK MAGUIRE had a pet opening for the hundreds of speeches he gave annually.

After the master of ceremonies had spent several minutes introducing Dr. Maguire, the Doc would thank the MC and then begin:

"There are three things in life that are hard to do; climb a fence that's leaning toward you, kiss a girl that's leaning away from you and live up to all the nice things that are said about you in an introduction."

But there is a fourth thing that will be difficult now. That is for athletics in Pennsylvania to carry on without Doc Maguire.

Pennsylvania Did Not Need Rule Book

In many states arguments over rules are settled by rule books but not in Pennsylvania.

"We'll ask Doc Maguire," was the way rule questions were settled here. The book might be wrong but not Frank Maguire.

Dr. Maguire helped write many of the rule books and until his death yesterday afternoon at Monroe County General Hospital, he served on numerous groups that revised football and basketball rules.

It was mainly through Dr. Maguire's efforts that the face guard on football helmets was made mandatory for high school games. And he also helped write a rule that prohibited tacklers from using an opponent's face bar as a handle.

The face bar became mandatory last season and at first some of the "old time" coaches felt the face mask was making football a sissy's game.

Dr. Maguire had little use for these men. "If the bar will prevent serious injuries or deaths," said Maguire, "it is worthwhile."

He Defended Hands Off Rule

Dr. Maguire also defended the hands off ruling that went with the bar.

"The bar is part of the man's equipment," argued a coach, "and a tackler should be allowed to grab it." "So is a helmet part of the equipment," said Maguire. "But you can't take it off and throw it at a runner to tackle him."

Dr. Maguire needed only to see an official work for several minutes in a ball game to rate him. If the official didn't have it, Dr. Maguire would tell him. He wanted nothing to do with officials that were over-the-hill but wouldn't call it quits.

Dr. Maguire, who was Commissioner on Officials for the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn., was not only well known in Pennsylvania athletics but on a nation-wide level.

He was the honorary life president of the Infernational Association of Approved Basketball Officials, the top basketball officiating group in the world.

It wasn't hard for Dr. Maguire to live up to the nice things that were said about him, it was just too easy to find nice things to say about him.

Morey Ousts Golf Medalist

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Medalist Wayne Jackson was a 3 and 2 victim of tourney-tough Dale Morey in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament's opening round Tuesday.

Charlie Smith, Gastonia, N.C., the defending champion, scored a 3 and 2 victory over David MacHarg of Dearborn, Mich., to lead a virtually uninterrupted procession of winning favorites into Wednesday's two rounds.

Was A Pro

Morey, one-time pro who returned to the amateur ranks to win the 1953 Western Amateur, made the turn 1 up with a par 36.

Morey, who lives in Morganton, N.C., then won 10, lost 11, but won 13 and 14 and halved the next two put out the little man from Hamilton, Va.

The sharpest scoring of the broiling hot day over the 7,000-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of Pinehurst Country Club was a four under par reported by Dick Chapman, a former winner from Palm Beach, Fla., who put out John Owens of Lexington, Ky., 6 and 4.

Sportsmen Assn. Meets Tonight

POCONO Mountains Sportsman Assn. will meet at Powletts Little Brown Jug tonight at 8.

Persons interested in wildlife feeding program are invited to attend. Door prizes will be awarded.

Squads Train At Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Both the East and West teams for the American Football Coaches Association All-America Bowl will train at the University of Buffalo, Jack Guthrie, president of the bowl association, announced Tuesday.

The squads will gather June 14 in preparation for the June 24 game in Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium.

Pro-Castros Hit By Eggs

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — Pro-Castro peasants were bombarded with rotten eggs and oranges near here over the weekend by a mob that sang "God Bless America."

The pro-Cuban mob was holding a victory rally—led by the Socialist Peasant League leader, Francisco Juliao—in the nearby town of Aruaru.

When speakers begain abusing the United States and President Kennedy another group came on the scene and started throwing eggs and oranges.

It's Bad Day For Pork Chops

BOSTON (AP) — This just was not a good day for cooking pork chops in the Cathedral housing project in the South End.

At 1:17 a.m. firefighters responded to an alarm at the third-floor apartment of Harry Smith. They said pork chops were burning.

Five minutes after returning to their station, the firefighters were called back to the housing project. This time they found pork chops burning in the fourth-floor apartment of Miss Hazel Brown.

Dear Abby

Speed Up An Investigation

Dear Abby: I stopped a man on the street and asked him for directions. (I was new in town.) He walked me to where I was going, as it wasn't very far. We struck up a friendship. That was two years ago. I won't go into detail, but now we are very much in love. Abby, he says he has no family at all. No sister, brothers, parents, nobody! He never talks about his job, his past or his co-workers. He says he "sells." We sometimes talk of marriage but nothing definite. I am 27 and he is 34. Is it possible that he can have not one relative or friend or co-worker?

GIRL ALONE

Dear Girl: Possible, yes. Probable, no. Find out what he sells, for whom and then check on him. It could be a "line" you don't want.

Dear Abby: I have been going steady for a year now, and it is getting close to the engagement stage. I am 19 and my "problem" is 20. When we go out on a date, we usually stop to get something to eat on the way home.

He always orders a hamburger WITH ONIONS. When we say goodnight, all I can smell are onions. Could you suggest something?

ONION HATER

Dear Onion Hater: Tell your friend that when he orders a hamburger, he should "hold the onions" if he would "hold his girl."

Dear Abby: We have a 22-year-old niece whose pet dog recently died. No one can talk to her. She is in another world. She refuses to eat, and she cries all night. We are afraid she's losing her mind. We try to tell her that 12 years is a full life for a dog, but she says hers could have lived to be 20. She even talks of committing suicide. We have had humans die in this family and she never took it so hard. How can we help her get over it? Don't suggest a puppy. We bought her one and she wouldn't even look at it.

WORRIED AUNT

Dear Worried: All pet owners suffer some heartache at the loss of a cherished pet, but your niece has gone off the deep end. An emotionally mature, healthy person adjusts to such a loss. She needs professional help — and NOW!

Dear Abby: My husband and I recently attended the wedding reception of a friend. We took a very special gift. But the thank you note we received was for the wrong gift. Should we let it go or should we let them know what our gift to them was?

MRS. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: By all means, let them know. Good-humoredly, of course.

Defects With 500 Sheep

BERLIN (AP)—A farmer in Communist East Germany has defected to West Berlin, with 500 of his sheep, police said Monday.

They reported he left 100 of his sheep in an unfenced field between East and West Berlin to allay suspicion, then herded the rest into West Berlin Saturday before East German police knew what was happening.

The farmer said his sheep were to be seized for a collective farm.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Better day than appears at first. Seek the advantages and they will show up quicker. Whatever your top duties entail, give them priority. Staunchness of purpose important.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Don't misuse anything of value and that includes your energies. Gains possible through people and acts at a distance, through government, family, associates.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Be not discouraged if endeavors seem overlooked or unappreciated. It is always darkest before the dawn. Show right attitude combined with correct effort, a winning combination.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—One who awaits opportunity may wait a long time. It is the doer, and you usually are one, who reaps most rewards. Proceed with confidence, assurance, yet prudence never rashness.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—No need to quarrel with day's indications—IF you are on your toes. Plan an intelligent program tailored to fit needs. This approach obtains for both boss and worker.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Don't undertake more than you can reasonably handle this busy period. No worry over trivial matters that can wait. Fine time for personal achievement, cultivating better public relations.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Consistent planning and adequate effort will in great measure determine size and stability of advancement. Influences favor practical items, frown on recklessness, indecision.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Day leans to the friendly, particularly for industry, building, dealing in essential commodities, farming. Be careful attempting something new, risky. Move with precision.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Push ahead with optimism augmented by proper planning. Necessary improvements, extensions should be begun, made, also vital changes. No last-minute rushes to nowhere.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Steady upgrading, essential business favored above quick financial gains. Geniality, intelligent persuasion your strong points, more helpful than mere force. Be only wisely acquisitive.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Work to produce excellent results, don't worry about monetary returns being a bit slow. True success not measured by material gains. Neither is happiness so secured.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—You can accomplish much if you pace self sensibility. Apply energies where most required. Scan overall picture and put stress on that most beneficial to your mind, soul.

YOU BORN TODAY: Taurus has given the world many renowned artists, teachers, leaders in fields where humanitarianism and understanding of people's wants are uppermost. You are simple, direct, yet profound in thought; have far-reaching ideas that assist community, country to better living conditions. But you may not like politics itself. You can be a part of a Gov't. team that achieves outstanding headway. Can calm the excited, make nervous folks feel at ease. Do not strain your energies and assets and become fatigued. Get sufficient sleep, eat plain foods generally. Don't be headstrong; nor be led through sympathy. Birthdate of: Numerous playwrights, mathematicians, historians, short-story writers, poets, doctors.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your forune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Catechetical Class At St. Matthew's

THE SIXTH annual banquet and graduation of the St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg catechetical class were held Monday night at the church.

More than 125 guests, students and faculty members attended the event.

The main speaker was Rev. J. Fitzpatrick, of Scranton University.

Parents of all the classes, students and faculty members attended benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament also at the church. The organist was Jeanne Meyer.

Those in the graduation class were:

Maryann Benson, Susan Britton, Kathleen Ann Dolan, Rosemarie Emanual, Elaine M. Forster, Ann B. Fishbach, Mary Ellen Gilliland, Jean Pappalardo, Ann Rau, Claudia Pusateri, Ann Louise Raeder, Joseph Battaglini.

Also James Coleman, Edward W. Dilginis, Jerry Langan, Richard Mannix, John Patella, Vincent Patella, J. Ray Rogers, Gerald E. Shanley, Robert Somers, John Rundle, Joseph Zateeny, Thomas Talaz.

Journey Through Republic Of Niger Is Interesting

(The following delayed dispatch was written by Jack Gelinas, formerly of East Stroudsburg, now a public relations executive for Mobil Oil Nigeria Ltd. He is stationed in Lagos, Nigeria).

By JACK GELINAS

GAO, MALI REPUBLIC—Former French Sudan—(enroute to Timbuctoo, fifth day)—The topography rises gently away from the River Niger to the north of Niamey, and the half green, half fertile land on which the capital city of Niger Republic is spread, soon gave way to a steady diet of parch dryness.

Only one road leads north to Gao through a desolate, near barren waste. It is of laterite. There is little rain in this part of the world, and for at least ten months of the year, the steady, sub-desert sun buckles and warps the laterite like a baked meringue for most of the 282 miles from Niamey.

The terrain soon becomes flat and of little interest in itself, but an occasional glimpse of the river and crane-like Crown birds always seen in pairs; the omnipresence of the shepard boy, with his equally ubiquitous goats and sheep; a lonely camelrider; and the long, low rectangular tents of woven mats, which are shelter for the nomadic L'Azaouak people, break and boredom of this otherwise monotonous land.

Welcome Tillaberi

Seventy-three miles after starting out this morning we welcomed the sight of Tillaberi, the first settlement of any recognized permanence since Niamey. We stopped and each drank three bottles of locally purchased lemonade, in the shadow of an ancient mosque of mud.

A shady area under the only tree in the near vicinity of this muslin edifice was occupied at the time, as the tree served as a canopy for an outdoor school.

The Imam, a wise - looking, turbanned, goateed wise-one, whose many robes belied his small frame, sat leaning against the tree's knotty trunk chewing mildly stimulating kola-nuts, with children squatted about him reciting passages from the Koran. The curiosity inspired by our presence temporarily interrupted the class, but the Imam's long switch son restored order.

Fifteen miles later we came to the Hausa village of Dianbala, where a few enterprising villagers were selling charcoaled goat meat on skewers, by the side of the wide dusty road.

By the time we reached the next village, the first in the Sudan, we had traveled another sixty-four miles. The flaming sun had traveled closer to the horizon, casting long shadows from the Sudanese architecture of Labbezenga.

Two hours later and the sky was pearl-grey with overtones. The sun looked across at us from the treeless horizon, as though through smoked-glass; and the people of Ansongo were dusting off their prayer-mats for the last of the day's five get-togethers with Mohammed.

In the dryness of this near desert we came to one place where the road was flooded a foot deep for a hundred yards by a delta formed by the River Niger. But even here there was no attempt at man-made irrigation.

It suddenly became dark, long before reaching Gao. By darkness the road seemed worse and it probably was. A radio tower in the distance told us that we were nearing this river-terminus town of 19,000, with its thirty-three European families.

It was 9 p.m. and the streets were like a movie-set deserted after the filming of Beau Geste. It was almost sinister. The harmattan-moon was shrouded and the building stood in half shadows like so many different sized salt-boxes along the sandy paths which crept about the city.

We hadn't gone far when we came alongside the Hotel L'Atlantide. We drove around to the front, parked the car and entered. The movie-set suddenly came to life; the characters were on stage.

(To be continued)

Met Opera Star To Sing Here Tonight

WALTER CASSEL, Metropolitan Opera baritone, will present the final concert of Pocono Community Concerts Assn. at 8:30 p.m. today in the auditorium of East Stroudsburg State College.

The program will open with Lost Love, "Tamerlane" and The Moon, "Ptolemy" by G. F. Handel, My Heart Was So Free from "The Beggar's Opera" by John Gay, The Omnipotence (Die Allmacht) by Franz Schubert and Invito alla Danza (I Invite You to Dance) and Scherzo by Ottorino Respighi.

Walter Cassel

It will continue with Nemico della Patria from "Andrea Chenier' by Umberto Giordano, Apres un Reve by Gabriel Faure, Mandoline by Claude Debussy and Vision Fugitive from "Herodiade" by Jules Massenet.

Following the intermission, Cassel's accompanist, Stanton Carter, will present Nocturne In A Minor by Francis Poulenc and Humoreske by Rachmaninoff.

Then Cassel will conclude the program with Yet Will I Love Her by Del Arden and Stewart Wille, Hurdy-Gurdy by Philip Warner, Retreat and Voodo Spirits by Frank LaForge, Ode to Us (A Love Letter) by Del Arden and Stewart Wille, Kingdom by the Sea by Arthur Somervell and Blow Me Eyes by Albert Hay Malotte.

Mathematics Tournament Problem

THE Monroe County Mathematics Teachers Assn., sponsor of the annual mathematics tournament for county high school students, has prepared a series of questions based on previous contests as a guide to the problems to be presented in the tournament next month.

The following is a Plane Geometry problem which was used in a previous Monroe County Mathematics Tournament: Circles A, B, and C are externally tangent to each other. Their radii are 9, 7, and 5 respectively. Find the perimeter of triangle ABC formed by joining their centers.

Solution To Problem No. 10

Let "t" equal the time which Mr. Calmer has been on the road when Mr. Rush is 10 miles behind Mr. Calmer. Since Mr. Rush waits for 1 hour his time will be (t-1) at the time when he is ten miles behind Mr. Calmer.

Using the formula, Distance equals rate times time we can express the distance for each man. The distance for Mr. Calmer is 32 times "t".

The distance for Mr. Rush is 43 times (t-1). Mr. Rush's distance may also be expressed in terms of Mr. Calmer since the problem told us that Mr. Rush was 10 miles behind Mr. Calmer. This expression is 32t-10. Now that we have Mr. Rush's distance expressed in two ways we can equate the two expressions of the same thing to each other. 32t-10 equals 43(t-1).

Solving this equation for "t" we have the number of hours Mr. Calmer was traveling when Mr. Rush is 10 miles behind. In the above equation "t" equals 3 hours.

Monroe County Has Natural Gas & Oil

Farmers Gas & Oil, Incorporated of Kingston, Pennsylvania is now leasing land in Tunkhannock Township. Potential Rewards are tremendous according to geologists from M. I. T.

A well now being drilled in Luzerne County near Wilkes-Barre is in a gas bearing area at 1450 feet. Already we had showings of gas in three different horizons.

Get acquainted with our drilling unit financing system in which the investor receives 64% of the entire production of gas or oil from all Unit A Wells (four of which are to be completed soon). Only 3000 of these units are in existence at $100.00 each, also some corporate shares. We invite your investigation.

Diversification Of Mutuals

By William A. Doyle

Q. I may be somewhat confused about the advantages or disadvantages of buying shares of mutual fund or buying individual stocks on the recommendations of an investment advisory bureau.

Here's the way I see it. If I buy shares of a mutual fund, I gamble with the one mutual fund I happen to pick. If I buy stocks on the recommendations of an investment advisory bureau, I can spread my risk among different stocks. Am I right?

A. Unless you have a whole lot more money than most people, you're wrong.

If you buy shares of a mutual fund, the fund uses your money and the money of all its other shareholders to buy many different securities in many different companies. That gives the fund (and, of course, its shareholders) diversification.

How wide this diversification becomes varies from one mutual fund to another. Diversification is one of the big selling points of mutual funds. It tends to reduce the degree of risk of owning mutual fund shares. And, while it usually keeps the value of shares of a fund from falling rapidly in periods of sharp declines in stock market prices, it also tends to slow down the rise in value of the fund's shares in periods of sharp rises in stock market prices.

Ownership of mutual fund shares gives you indirect ownership of all the securities the fund holds.

When you buy stocks on the recommendations of an investment advisory bureau, you have direct ownership of those stocks. You might do better or you might do worse that way.

But you would have to own a fantastic number of different stocks, before you could even come close to the diversification provided by most mutual funds.

Q. I have $4,500 in church bonds which I would like to give to my 11-year-old granddaughter. I also have a couple of thousand dollars in cash. I would like to give her either the cash or buy stocks or mutual fund shares for her. Can I?

A. Certainly. All 50 states and the District of Columbia have passed "gift to minors" laws. You can give the lucky child any kind of securities or cash.

See a good lawyer. He'll set the whole thing up for you, with a minimum of effort.

Q. I recently sold some stock. If I had held on to it a few days longer, I would have been eligible to receive the latest dividend. I know I pulled a boo-boo. But should my broker have equaled my stupidity?

A. You didn't pull a boo-boo. Your broker isn't stupid. When a dividend is to be paid, the amount of that dividend is deducted from the market value of the stock — on the "ex-dividend date."

You evidently sold before the ex-dividend date. If you had waited until or after that date, you would have received that much less for your shares. You didn't lose anything. You got the amount of the dividend as part of the sale price of your stock.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Captured Rebel Wants To Die

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A captured rebel, who described himself as a U.S. citizen, shouted "I want to be killed," in an emotion — charged interrogation seen last night on Cuban television. television.

The prisoner said his name was Manuel Perez Garcia.

He claimed he had won the U.S. Medal of Honor for killing a large number of Japanese soldiers in World War II.

The captive said also his son was killed in combat in Korea.

"I want to be killed. I want the people of Cuba to give their most severe punishment to all who took part in the invasion," the captive yelled in a telecast monitored in Key West.

Space Awards

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, says the Soviet Council of Ministers has authorized awarding of orders and medals to scientists and technicians who helped make possible Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin's space flight April 12.

Route Numbers Changed In Area Highway Systems

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Highways Department announced yesterday it is changing the numbered designations of some routes in the Pennsylvania highway system.

The first changes will be made during the spring in northeastern counties.

They will be reflected on a new official road map to be available late next month, the department said.

Five of the changes will be new routes intersecting the Penn-Can Highway (Interstate 81). They are: State Rt. 848, New Milford to Gibson and State Rt. 374, Royal to Glenwood, both in Susquehanna County; and state Rt. 438, La Plume to Montdale, state Rt. 524 from state Rt. 407 north of Waverly to Scott, and state Rt. 632 from Dalton to junction with Rt. 247 south of Montdale, all in Lackawanna County.

A sixth route change in the Susquehanna-Lackawanna area will extend state Rt. 407 from Fleetville to the new Route 374.

The new route designations in other areas, all to be made effective gradually over a period of several weeks, are:

Rt. 70, Carbondale to Great Bend, changed to Rt. 171.

State Rt. 115, Wilkes-Barre to Dallas, eliminated to avoid dual numbering.

State Rt. 115, Dallas to Hughesville, changed to Rt. 118.

State Rt. 90, Stockertown to Hancock, N. Y., to Rt. 191.

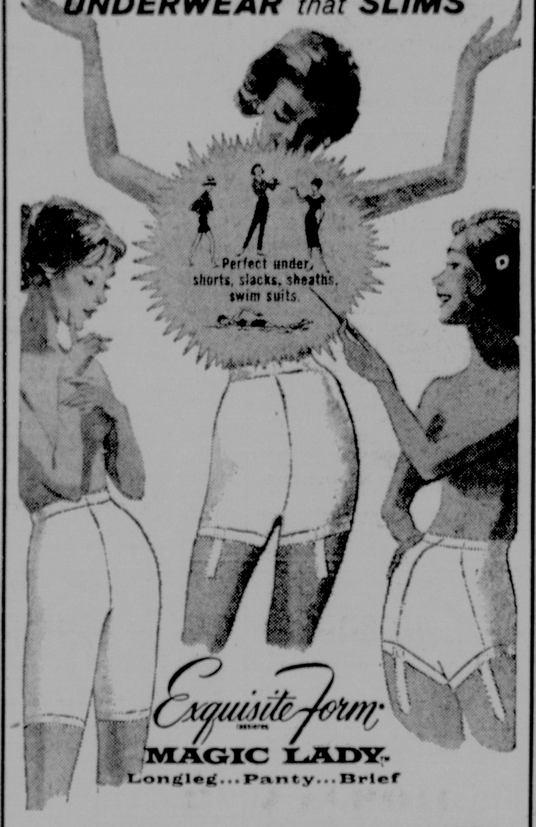

Rt. 90, Easton to Stockertown, eliminated to avoid dual numbering.

State Rt. 12, eliminated from state system to avoid dual numbering.

Rt. 12, Stockertown to Center Center Valley, changed to Rt. 191.

State Rt. 54, Mausdale to Ashland, to state Rt. 45.

Want little tires or full-sized tires on your compact?

WHICH IS THE RAMBLER AMERICAN?

Small compacts like Falcon, Corvair, use 13-inch tires that turn a million times more every 10,000 miles—run hotter, wear faster.

Rambler American is the economy compact with big 15-inch tires that look better, run cooler, last longer, give more load-carrying capacity.

Get a Rambler American!

X-Ray shows it's BETTER BUILT
Compare Falcon, Comet, Corvair, Valiant, Lark, Lancer with Rambler American's thorough excellence, such as 9,000-weld Single-Unit construction. Deep-Dip rustproofing up to the roof.

X-Ray shows it's a BETTER BUY
The better-built Rambler American officially carries lowest price of any U.S. sedan. It is priced from $67* to $485* LESS than ALL other American-made compacts.

*Price comparisons are based on manufacturers' suggested factory delivered prices for lowest-priced models.
